Report Ruman Armistice Plea

NEW YORK, April 5 (AP)—A Blue Network broadcast from London today quoted dispatches as saying Premier Antonescu of Rumania would seek an armistice from Washington, London and Moscow.

The network's correspondent, Thomas B. Grandin, said such a course had been urged on the premier by an emissary he sent to Cairo to negotiate with the United Nations.

"The time is near when the Germans no longer will be able to hold the Balkans," Grandin said. "Nothing would be less surprising than a complete collapse of Rumania."

The Associated Press had no confirmation of the report, which came less than 24 hours after U. S. bombers smashed at targets in Bucharest and while Russian troops were advancing only 200 miles northeast of the Rumanian capital.

(An exclusive Washington dispatch from International News Service Correspondent Leon Pearson on Saturday disclosed that Prince Barbu Stirbey, long the "power behind the Rumanian throne," had been sent to Cairo in an effort to negotiate an armistice. This dispatch at the time emphasized a "strong possibility that Rumania will abandon the Axis and come to terms with the Allies.")

Earlier the Berlin radio said Antonescu had issued a proclamation deploring the U. S. attack and calling on his people to stand firm. The broadcast, recorded by the Associated Press, quoted Antonescu as saying:

"Instead of understanding and justice from those we have never attacked and to whom we have felt thanks for the past, they have vented on us the terrible revenge of air bombardment, taking innocent lives of women and children, making many families paupers and destroying the faith in their hearts."

Red Invaders Rule Tarnopol

By HENRY C. CASSIDY

MOSCOW, April 5 (AP)—Russian troops fought in the streets of Tarnopol for possession of that Nazi stronghold today as fiel ddispatches declared that the Red Army had all but wiped out the remnants of 15 surrounded German divisions in the Skala pocket west of Kamenets Podolsk and had launched new blows at Lwow and Odessa at opposite ends of the far-flung front.

Marshal Zhukov's First Army already is i npossession of most of Tarnopol, a Soviet communique announced, and a dramatic struggle was being waged to oust the fiercely resisting German garrison. More than 3000 Nazis were killed and 300 captured during the past three days, the bulletin added, as they fought for literally every foot of ground.

The 10-day battle for possession of the city, a bastion guarding the approaches to Lwow, 70 miles further west, apparently was reaching its climax.

Zhukov's right wing, which bypassed Tarnopol after it was surrounded on March 26, was less than 50 miles from Lwow, the communique declared, and yesterday captured 30 towns and villages on its eastern approaches, including Buzhany, 50 miles to the northeast.

Meanwhile Gen. Malinovsky's Third Army smashed to within two miles of the last rail escape route for the mass of German troops caged in the Odessa area north of the Black Sea. Driving down from the northeast, Red Army forces swept up 50 towns and villages, including Bakolova, two miles east of Razdelnaya, control junction for rail lines leading into Rumania via Tiraspol and Kishinev, the communique said.

(London dispatches estimated that 200,000 Germans and Rumanians were pinned against the Black sea coast in Odessa and immediately north and west of the great German-held naval base.)

Other Red army forces, driving on Kishinev, capital of Bessarabia, have captured 30 localities on a 50-mile front straddling both sides of the lower Dniester, the communique announced, and were within 32 miles of the city at Dolbany.

Bucharest Raid Damage Large

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, April 5 (AP)—Allied Headquarters announced today rail yards and repair shops were well covered by the large forces of U. S. heavy bombers which hammered Bucharest, Rumanian capital, yesterday.

Allied planes flew 1400 sorties yesterday, destroying 49 enemy planes for a loss of 12 of their own, a communique said. It confirmed reports 116 enemy planes were destroyed in April 2 operations.

(The Berlin radio asserted 44 American planes were downed by German and Rumanian fighters in the Bucharest attack.)

Bucharest was the third Balkan capital to feel the sting of American bombs within a week, Budapest having been hit Monday and Sofia earlier. Budapest also was hit by RAF bombs Monday night.

While headquarters officers had nothing to say about possible political motives for bombardment of three Balkan capitals in a row there was some speculation there was much more in the attacks than a desire to destroy military objectives in support of the Russians.

Bucharest Hit Again In RAF Night Raid

LONDON, April 5 (INS)—Stockholm dispatches today reported Bucharest was bombed last night for the second time in 12 hours to touch off a new wave of near-panic throughout the jittery Balkans.

The London News-Chronicle, in a dispatch from the Swedish capital, said Allied planes struck at Bucharest at 9 o'clock last night following yesterday's daylight assault by American heavy bombers.

Italians Halt Nazi Thrust

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, April 5 (AP) — Italian troops on Mt. Marrone, 15 miles northeast of Cassino, have repulsed a German counterattack, inflicting casualties, it was announced today.

The Italians, fighting with the Allied Fifth Army, were reported last week to have seized the mile-high peak as well as two others in the vicinity.

Elsewhere along the front there were artillery duels and patrol clashes.

Considerable enemy movement was observed just northwest of Cassino, dispatches from the front said. In Cassino itself an enemy patrol was attacked with small arms fire and six of its members were killed.

U. S. Liberators Raid France

LONDON, April 5 (AP)—U. S. Liberators attacked military objectives in the Pas-de-Calais area of France today, Air Force Headquarters announced.

Thick clouds prevented observers on the English coast from obtaining a view of the outward bound raiders, but the length of time they required to pass overhead indicated the formations were of considerable size.

Several continental radio stations went off the air suddenly during the morning, but at 11 a. m. (5AEW) the Berlin radio said there were no Allied planes over Germany.

The daylight activity followed raids by RAF Mosquito bombers last night on Cologne and other targets in the Ruhr Valley. All planes returned safely.

Japs Hold India Line

By CHARLES A. GRUMICH

NEW DELHI, April 5 (AP)—Japanese invaders of India were reported reliably today to be holding a 15-mile stretch of the road midway between Imphal on the Manipur plain and Kohima, 60 miles north.

There they must establish a pre-monsoon, weather-worthy line of communication within six weeks—or disastrously lose their long gamble for the Bengal-Assam railway, an Allied lifeline.

A southeast Asia communique announced Jap pressure increased along the whole Assam front. It told of a successful rear guard action by British and Indian troops withdrawing from the south up the road from Tiddim toward the main defenses of the Imphal plain.

Some of these Allied troops have been depending on supplies and ammunition dropped from the air as they fight their way north through Japanese who have cut the road.

MERRILL PIERCES LINES

The communique said Jap forces which reached the Imphal-Kohima highway had not been dislodged.

Meantime a dispatch by William Boni, Associated Press correspondent with Gen. Stilwell's Americans and Chinese in the Mogaung valley, in North Burma, disclosed the deepest penetration yet behind Jap lines by units of Gen. Merrill's All-American Marauders.

They recently struck at the Japs at Inkanghtawng, 16 miles above Kamaing. Kamaing is 20 miles northwest of Mogaung, important point on the Mandalay-to-Myitkyina rail line.

News of this hit-and-run harassing operation was revealed after American troops, completing their mission, withdrew to the mountains east of the Mogaung valley where they are helping to block a Jap effort to outflank Stilwell's main positions by a northward push through the mountains.

YANKS KILL 300 JAPS

These swift-moving Marauders, in briefly establishing a road block at Inkanghtawng while other Americans were blocking the Japs farther north at Laban, killed at least 300 at small casualties to themselves.

The southeast Asia communique said Allied planes, sweeping over the whole Burma area, hit oil and power installations in southern Burma and shot up enemy columns in the India border area.

On the Arakan front along the Bay of Bengal, Allied troops, advancing toward the Jap-held port of Akyab, occupied Alathangdaw, south of Maungdaw.

Japan's Hollandia Airfields Destroyed

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, April 5 (AP)—One terrific scoop of 400 tons of bombs has pushed Hollandia's three airfields into the cauldron of burned-out Japanese air bases which Allied planes keep stirring for 1000 miles around the Bismarck Sea.

In an hour and a half Sunday, more than 300 Fifth Air Force planse set a record for concentrated devastation in the Southwest Pacific by wiping out the last of a fleet of 288 enemy planes, Gen. MacArthur announced today.

Below Hollandia, more than 3000 tons of bombs in recent raids have laid waste four airfields around Wewak. Further southeast, fields at Bogia Alexishafen and Madang have suffered a similar fate.

Once-mighty Rabaul's five airfields are among those which Vice Adm. Aubrey W. Fitch has announced as completely knocked out on New Britain, New Ireland and Bougainville by his busy Solomons air arm.

Gen. MacArthur's reports today also added one more to the growing series of punches that planes from the Solomons are giving Truk in the Carolines in conjunction with other bombers from the Central Pacific.

In the Admiralty Islands, after destroyers had wiped out opposition, units of the First Cavalry Division occupied Rambuyto, southeast of Manus, Monday.

The Hollandia assault was one of co-ordinated destruction. Liberators went over high. Out went the ground defenses. Mitchells and Bostons went in low. Lightnings pitched into 30 interceptors and got 24. A Liberator got two more. The other four probably perished later on the ground. The cost of this sledgehammer blow was one Allied fighter plane.

Czechs Accept Liberation Plan

WASHINGTON, April 5 (AP)—The Czechoslovak government in London has agreed with Russia, Britain and the United States on a plan for administering its territory as soon as military operations permit.

The Czech embassy was so advised today in a communication from London, which said a delegation of the government will go into Czechoslovakian liberated areas the moment the Red army command declares them behind-the-line.

Czech Ambassador Vladimir Hurban pointed out that President Edouard Benes already has appealed to Czech underground workers

Bonus Drive Gains Here

The drive to aid Massachusetts veterans gathered momentum today as the special session of the Legislature, openly rebellious against Governor Saltonstall's insistence on a two-day gathering, prepared to consider proposals for servicemen's bonuses, increased veteran facilities and establishment of aid centers throughout the State.

Republican legislative leaders joined in open defiance of the Governor's request that the session consider only a servicemen's vote bill and extension of the time limit on inspection of places of public assembly and aided in forcing the veteran measures before the special convocation.

Despite the revolt, the Governor remains insistent that the session consider only the measures he recommended and wind up its meeting in two days. He asserted last night that proposals for a bonus and increased facilities were dependent on the course of federal legislation and could wait until the regular biennial session next January.

The bonus proposal, however, comes before the military affairs and public safety committee for hearing today and so unanimous was the sentiment registered for it at the session's opening yesterday that an immediate favorable report was expected.

SEEK MORE FACILITIES

Hearings also will be held by the committee on proposals for increased facilities at the Soldiers' Home in Chelsea; erection of a new veterans' hospital in central Massachusetts, and establishment of centers for veteran aid in communities of 5000 or more population.

Powerful support for increased hospital facilities came last night from John L. Delay, State American Legion commander, who asserted the Chelsea Soldiers' Home "no longer can provide for the men of World War I, let alone World War II."

Delay demanded immediate action, declaring that the four hospitals in the state under the Veterans' Administration were overcrowded. He also pointed out that no provision yet had been made for women serving in either war.

No proposals were forthcoming among advocates of the veteran legislation, however, regarding methods of financing a bonus measure. Among possibilities discussed outside legislative chambers, however, were a special poll tax, a sales tax, increased taxes on horse and dog tracks, income tax rises, and a state-operated lottery.

A two-thirds vote would be necessary to pass a bond issue to finance the proposal instead of the majority by which the measure could gain consideration by the Legislature. Supporters of the proposal, however, minimized the possibility of insufficient strength to gain a two-thirds vote, pointing to the unanimity with which the measure, incorporated in a Democratic minority report of a special post-war rehabilitation commission, was approved for consideration at yesterday's session.

TORRID LOVE—It happened at last . . . Long a smouldering beauty of the screen, Hedy Lamarr, is reported to have burst into flames during a torrid movie love scene with actor Paul Henreid. The flames came when Henreid accidentally ignited Hedy's veil while lighting a cigarette. In a quick clinch, he smothered the flames and Hedy escaped injury.

India Heiress Search Widens

NEW YORK, April 5—Husky, perspiring policemen, stripped to the waist, were still shoveling through a 165-ton coal pile in a Riverside Drive sub-cellar today, on the theory it may conceal the body of Valsa Matthai, missing Columbia University co-ed and daughter of a Bombay, India, millionaire.

VALSA MATTHAI
Body Hunted Under Coal

Search for the 23-year-old heiress began yesterday on a huge mass of buckwheat coal in the 500-room International House where she lived until her disappearance two weeks ago.

Police were spurred on by requests for an all-out investigation as the State Department, British diplomatic officials and the FBI urged the greatest possible effort to find the Indian magnate's daughter.

A leading theory now is that she never left International House. She was last seen at 4:30 in the morning of March 20. The elevator operator at her residence told police early in the probe she had entered his car and asked to be taken to the street floor. He said she walked out into the storm, although she was wearing flimsy sandals of her native land and was otherwise not garbed for wintry weather.

Only a few hours before she had been host in her room to two other co-eds who said she had never appeared happier.

Commr. Valentine's men were dragging the Hudson river and exploring roof tops but, for reasons not divulged, especial attention is directed to the coal pile. The fuel is fed to it through a block-long tunnel about eight feet in diameter. This is also being examined.

Chaplin Faces 2 New Fights

LOS ANGELES, April 5 (AP)—Film Comedian Charlie Chaplin relaxed today from a court ordeal which brought his acquittal on charges of Mann Act violation, while red-haired Joan Berry, 24, his accuser, shrugged off the verdict with the comment:

"I hope he's happy. After all, I was just a witness. If the jury believed Mr. Chaplin, that is their business."

Scanning smiling pictures of Chaplin in newspaper extras, Miss Berry remarked, "He looks very happy, doesn't he?"

Chaplin's fourth wife, Oona O'Neill, exclaimed exultantly: "I'm so glad I can hardly speak. I knew he was innocent."

The 18-year-old Oona is expecting a child.

Chaplin, who will be 55 in a week or so, was adjudged innocent late yesterday by a federal court jury.

Other legal matters concerning Miss Berry still confront Chaplin. Next Tuesday he is scheduled to appear in federal court, with six co-defendants, for a ruling on their demurrers to indictments charging conspiracy to deprive her of her civil rights.

Chaplin also faces Miss Berry's civil suit alleging he is the father of her six-months-old daughter, Carol Ann.

Wait Jury Action On Vander Wyk

Pending a report on the grand jury hearing held at East Cambridge yesterday, the case of Henry D. Vander Wyk, 49, oil company executive of Winchester, charged with manslaughter in connection with his wife's death, was continued again today in Woburn court to April 12.

The continuance was requested by Police Chief William H. Rogers of Winchester and agreed to by the defendant and his counsel, Francis T. Leahy.

The manslaughter charge grows out of the death of Mrs. Rena Vander Wyk, 48, found in the driveway of the Vander Wyk home March 18. Vander Wyk has pleaded innocent to the charge that he drove his automobile over his wife.

LOS ANGELES, April 5 (INS)—Reporters hurried to the home of Joan Berry immediately after the jury verdict in the Charlie Chaplin trial.

"Miss Berry," one said to the red-haired girl whom the government had charged Chaplin took to New York for immoral purposes, "the jury has found Mr. Chaplin not guilty."

Joan paused for a moment and took a deep breath.

"Well!" she exclaimed. After a moment she asked:

"Would you like to come up and see the baby?"

2-Inch N. Y. Snow Follows Thunder

NEW YORK, April 5 (AP)—A mixture of summer and winter weather gave parts of New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania a thunderstorm today followed by a heavy snowfall.

The storm extended as far north as Bear Mounts, N. Y., and as far south as Atlantic City and Philadelphia. It caused numerous traffic accidents.

Two claps of thunder awakened New Yorkers before dawn. The heavy snowfall later caused thousands of commuters to be late for work.

Benjamin Parry, chief meteorologist at the New York weather bureau, reported a snowfall of two inches, the heaviest April 5 snowfall here since that of 1898, when 2.5 inches fell.

Wisconsin Defeat Seen Bitter Blow for Willkie

By A. L. SLOAN

MILWAUKEE, April 5 (INS)—Wendell Willkie hit the toboggan as candidate for the Republican presidential nomination today in an avalanche of returns from yesterday's Wisconsin primary, in which Gov. Dewey of New York apparently had captured a majority of the state's 24 delegates.

For Willkie, it was one of the most disastrous defeats in recent political history.

Voters of this State of the La Follettes, long renowned for its liberalism, in unmistakable terms turned thumbs down on Willkie's aspirations to become again the G. O. P. standardbearer.

In the field of four presidential possibilities, the 1940 nominee was running last, a poor fourth, with delegate candidates pledged to Lieut.-Comdr. Harold E. Stassen second and Gen. MacArthur third.

Willkie had not bagged a single delegate in returns from more than half the state's 3076 precincts.

14 SEEN FOR DEWEY

On the basis of incomplete returns it was indicated Dewey would have 14, Stassen 6, and MacArthur 4, subject to revision when all returnss are in.

The failure of the dramatic Willkie campaign through the state was evident from the Milwaukee returns which indicated he was losing, too, his fight in the city where he made his most ardent appeal to labor.

With only three delegates-at-large candidates entered under Dewey's name, these three were elected by large pluralities, the fourth going to Stassen.

The result was regarded as sending Dewey's stock soaring to a new high as the outstanding favorite for nomination at the national convention opening in Chicago June 26. He had asked candidates favoring him to withdraw. Only nine did.

Willkie chose Wisconsin as the national sounding board for his candidacy, entering the arena here dramatically in his 13-day stumping tour with ringing pleas to the voters to rally to his standard.

BITTER BLOW FOR WILLKIE

His campaign was heralded by national political leaders as his supreme effort, with the prospect of his candidacy rising or falling with the outcome.

Stassen, on duty with the Navy in the Pacific, made no move except to say he would not seek the nomination, but would accept if chosen by the National Convention.

MacArthur, concerned with his duties as Southwest Pacific commander-in-chief, has said nothing in reply to the movement to draft him in Wisconsin or in other states.

Some Republican leaders expressed the belief Willkie's failure in Wisconsin had damaged his candidacy beyond repair.

Willkie Silent On Defeat

NORFOLK, Neb., April 5 (INS)—Wendell Willkie went to bed early today without commenting on the results of the Wisconsin election. He spent yesterday making four speeches in his Nebraska campaign against Harold Strassen for the presidential preference vote at the April 11 primary.

Willkie was to speak at Fremont, Neb., at noon and then go into Omaha for a reception at 4 p. m. and a speech in the city auditorium there aat 8 p. m.

Willkie Gets Oregon's 15 Convention Votes

SALEM, Ore., April 5 (AP)—Oregon's 15 votes in the Republican National Convention will go to Wendell Willkie and its 14 votes in the Democratic National Convention to President Roosevelt.

Willkie and Roosevelt won by default as the Tuesday deadline passed with no other presidential candidates filed for the May 19 primary. Petitions bearing the required 1000 signatures to put Thomas E. Dewey on the Republican ballot were scrapped at the request of the New York governor.

Byrd May Lead Third Party

PHILADELPHIA, April 5 (INS)—Sen. Harry F. Fyrd (D.) of Virginia was advanced today as the possible leader of a third party wkich might "easily turn the tide" against a fourth term for President Roosevelt.

That possibility was stressed today in a Saturday Evening Post article by Forrest Davis, associate editor, who said only a landslide vote for the President could sweep aside the strength of a propected third party movement.

Davis, widely known political analyst, said the draft-Byrd-for-President campaign, started by a group of New Orleans businessmen, is growing. He also noted the junior Senator from Virginia has been invited to run in the primaries in several Southern states.

"The disaffection in the South," he said, "although not too articulate, is bone deep—some say more profound that at any time since 1860—and should it find expression, the results might gravely affect this year's decision."

Byrd will have little chance of blocking a fourth term nomination at the Democratic National Convention, Davis wrote, but he added:

"If he enters the Chicago contest, he will not lead a subsequent revolt. If, on the contrary, he stands off pressure and remains out of the Chicago polling, anything may happen."

Schools to Close For Holy Rites

Boston schools will close at noon tomorrow to permit observance by pupils and teachers of the religious devotions of Holy Thursday and Good Friday.

The additional observance of Holy Week was voted by the school committee, which decided also to close administration and supply departments to allow personnel an opportunity to join in the services.

HOME FROM the South Pacific after completing 56 bombing missions, Staff Sergt. Harold Ostler of Broadway, Chelsea, looks over the photos of six of his seven brothers in the Army . . . (l. to r.) Arthur, 29, and George, 22, in England; Donald, 21, in Tennessee, and Robert and Roland, 19-year-old twins, in Ireland. Charles, 31, not shown, is in Africa. There are two more brothers, twins, and a sister in the family.

Ace in 56 Missions Visits Chelsea Home

By CHARLES GILBERT

One of the eight Ostler boys on the far-flung battle fronts came home today to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Ostler of Broadway, Chelsea, bedecked with decorations and campaign ribbons.

He is Staff Sergt. Howard Ostler, veteran of 56 bombing missions in the South Pacific theater and survivor of uncounted attacks by Jap Zeros in raids over Rabaul, Cape Gloucester and other Jap strongholds.

Howard, a Flying Fortress nose gunner, wears the Silver Star, Air Medal with two Oak Leaf Clusters; a Presidential citation with two Gold Leaf Clusters, and on April 20 he will be presented the Distinguished Flying Cross at Atlantic City, N. J.

The 27-year-old flying hero told of fighting off nearly 70 Zeros during a raid over Rabaul.

"We dropped our bombs and got the ships assigned to us but the Zeros came from everywhere as soon as our squadron was alone.

Four of our squadron were shot down and the rest of us limped home badly shot up. But we got plenty of Zeros. I got one myself."

Comparing dates with his mother today, he learned that the dangerous mission was under way while Mrs. Ostler was dedicating a plaque to Chelsea servicemen on Oct. 12, 1943.

He paid high praise to his pilot, Capt. Robert Hallett, and said not a single man had been lost of the original crew. He has flown in three Forts—"Golden Lady," "Falcon" and "Betsy."

"And give the Seabees all the credit you can," he declared. "Those fellows are doing a fine job."

The rest of the Ostler family serving in the Army include: Charles, 31, Algiers; Arthur, 29, England; Leon, 24, England; George, 23, England; Robert and Roland, 19-year-old twins, both in Ireland; Donald, 21, Tennessee.

Thomas McGann Killed in Action

The Navy Department recently notified Mrs. Michael J. McCann of the death of her son, ARM 2/cl Thomas J. McGann, in action in the Solomons.

ARM 2/cl McGann, a graduate of Mechanics High School, worked with the Welfare Office of the State Department prior to entering the Navy.

He is survived by his mother, two brothers, Corp. Paul, stationed with the Army Signal Corps, in Italy; and John F., of the transportation office, headquarters, First Service Command, and two sisters, Rita, at home, and Mary Read, of North Carolina.

Nurse Pays Tribute To Bataan's Heroes

Because they fought valiantly against tremendous odds long enough for reinforcements to reach Australia, the men who battled the Japs at Bataan and Corregidor deserve the highest tribute America can bestow.

So said Lieut. Leona Gastinger, 28-year-old Army nurse, a veteran of the two epochal battles, today, as she prepared to leave Washington to appear here next Sunday as principal speaker at the Boston commemoration of Bataan Day on Boston Common.

Lieut. Gastinger's Boston address will mark her first public appearance, for the heroic nurse, still suffering from the ordeals, has been a periodical patient at Walter Reed General Hospital in Washington since July, 1942.

SERVED AT BATAAN

She served in a front line hospital at Bataan from Dec. 24, 1941 until the fateful April 9, 1942, when the evacuation to Corregidor took place. Lieut. Gastinger, whose home is in Kansas City, Mo., was taken off the fortress isle on May 3, on the last submarine, along with 12 other nurses, a Navy wife and 12 Army and Navy officers.

"No honor is too great, no tribute too high, for the men who gave their lives there that freedom and democracy might endure," she said. "To the end they all maintained a sense of humor and their morale was wonderful, but they were always looking for the convoy that never came."

Snubs Vivien On Spy Notes

WASHINGTON, April 5 — Asserting Vivien Kellems, Connecticut war plant owner, "must be very naive to think she can write love letters to a black-listed Nazi and not have them opened in wartime," Rep. John M. Coffee, today flatly turned down her appeal to learn how he got letters she allegedly wrote to Count Frederick Karl von Zedlitz in Buenos Aires.

"I got her letters from Shangri-La," Coffe said in reply to "open letter" which Miss Kellems sent from Westport, Ct., to him and to Postmaster General Frank C. Walker.

Vivian Kellems

The question of "political misuse of the mails" was raised in congressional circles today as Miss Kellems took to Washington a protest over the disclosure.

Sen. Reed (R.) of Kansas, revealed that, at Miss Kellems' request, he was meeting with her in Washington today.

Walker is on the West Coast, but a spokesman for his department said: "we don't open letters."

NEVER SAW LETTER

In her letter to the Congressman, Miss Kellems said:

"You read on the floor of the House on March 31, excerpts from letters which you claimed were written by me to Count Zedlitz and an excerpt from a letter written by Count Zedlitz to me. I have never seen the letter from Count Zedlitz, and if the letters you say were written by me to Count Zedlitz are authentic, the last time I saw them was when I entrusted them to the U. S. mail.

"Will you please tell me where you got those letters and if you have them in your possession, will you please permit me to see them?"

In reply, Coffee added:

"I have come to the conclusion she must be naive judging by what she said in those letters. Miss Kellems also seems naive when she says she was engaged in counter-espionage and had reported all to the FBI. Actually, she went to the FBI to clear things up so she could get a passport to visit relatives in Argentina. She didn't get the passport, period."

CHARGES ENGAGEMENT

After reading the letter excerpts to the House last Friday, Coffee charged Miss Kellems intended to marry the German count.

Miss Kellems, who last year caused a furore by advising business men not to pay their taxes, then replied with a 500-word statement in which she challenged the Congressman "to come out in the open and fight clean" by waiving his congressional immunity.

British Shipyard Strikes Spread

LONDON, April 5 (AP)—The wave of strikes which is seriously threatening British industry as the time for the western invasion approaches spread today through the Belfast shipyards, where hundreds of workers quit in a dispute centering about shipyard engineers and aircraft factory workers who had previously stopped work.

A spokesman for the shipyard crews said they had walked out in protest against imprisonment of five men charged with participating in an aircraft strike called in sympathy with the engineers.

Approximately 20,000 engineers have been on strike five weeks, it was said.

Demands Reprimand In Sicily Air Tragedy

WASHINGTON, April 5 (AP)—Senator Johnson (D.) of Colorado, called today for "a severe reprimand" for the officer responsible for withholding news of the Sicilian incident last summer in which confused American gunners helped shoot down 23 U. S. transport planes.

Johnson and other members of the Senate military committee joined in deploring such tragedies but said they saw no need for a congressional investigation, that the Army and Navy are doing all they can to prevent these accidents.

Asks School War On Delinquency

Schools provide a perfect field for combating juvenile delinquency, and Americans are "the most stupid people in the world" for failing to realize it, in the opinion of Dr. George D. Strayer of Columbia University.

Heading a staff of prominent educators conducting a $15,000 survey of Boston's public school system for the Boston Finance Commission, Dr. Strayer declared the closing of school buildings after classes turned children to the street and pool rooms.

He explained that New York had established experimental schools where children could be kept from 8:30 to 5 p. m. six days a week with a well balanced recreational and civic program operating in addition to the usual classroom studies.

Pneumonia Fatal To B. C. Professor

Following a week's illness with pneumonia, the Rev. Paul P. de Mangeleere, S. J., professor of romance languages at the Boston College Graduate School, died today at Carney Hospital, South Boston.

The priest was born in Belgium, May 9, 1874, and entered the Society of Jesus in Belgium, Jan. 16, 1895. He was ordained Aug. 15, 1913.

After receiving his bachelor of arts degree at the University of Brussels, he went to Canada for further study and was awarded his master of arts at the University of Montreal. He had been at Boston College since 1924.

Three Days Remain In 'Snow White' Test

New England women and girls who wish to enter the $1000 cash prize contest to discover a new and talented singer have only three more days in which to send their names and addresses to the "Princess Snow White" contest editor, c/o the Record-American-Sunday Advertiser, 5 Winthrop sq., Boston, 6, Mass.

Deadline for acceptance of entries is midnight Saturday. Each contest applicant will be sent a card setting an appointment for her audition.

ADRIANA CASELOTTI
"Snow White" Arrives in Hub

Meanwhile, today, many aspirants for the $1000 prize and the title of New England "Princess Snow White" sent in inquiries asking about the career of the original Snow White of Walt Disney's film classic, "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs."

"SNOW WHITE" ARRIVES

She is Miss Adriana Caselotti, who has arrived in Boston to make appearances in New England schools and theaters in connection with the 50-city showing of the film musical, which opens at the Normandie and Majestic theaters in Boston on April 14.

Both the contest and Miss Caselotti's visit to New England are sponsored by RKO Radio Pictures, Walt Disney Productions and the Record-American and Sunday Advertiser.

Miss Caselotti is now in her early twenties, is a petite, soft-spoken young lady, and is still studying singing. Following the phenomenal original success of "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," she toured almost the entire globe for several years, making personal appearances and singing the songs she made famous to audiences totaling millions.

JOINS GRAND OPERA

Once back in this country, she sang grand opera for several seasons, in Baltimore and other cities. She is a soprano, and her favorite operatic role is that of Gilda in "Rigoletto." Her favorite movie role, naturally, is "Snow White."

The contest is open to any New England girl or woman with an appealing singing voice. Her voice need not be specially trained. Auditions will be held on the evenings of April 10, 11, 12, 13 and 14 at the Yankee Network Studio, 21 Brookline ave. The winner will be chosen and announced April 14.

Several thousand students in Boston schools had an opportunity to hear the original voice of Snow White and at the same time to watch Dick Mitchell, one of Disney's top-notch artists, illustrate just how the Disney characters are drawn.

Miss Caselotti and Artist Mitchell, through co-operation of Dr. William J. Barry, assistant school superintendent, were guests yesterday at Girls' Trade School, the William Blackstone and the Lincoln schools. They continued the tour of Boston schools today.

Afterwards these two visitors from Hollywood were guests of Mayor Bennett of Worcester and attended a joint meeting of the Lions Club and several service clubs of Worcester.

200 Get Warnings To Clean Property

Legal notices ordering a clean-up within 24 hours will be served today on 200 more Boston property owners, Dr. G. Lynde Gately, city health commissioner, declared.

He complained, however, that the campaign's original goal of cleaning up the city by Easter would not be reached but expressed the hope that his department's "getting tough" campaign would accomplish the job by summer.

Bombs Self

ADVANCED SOLOMON ISLAND BASE, April 2 (delayed) (AP)—Lieut.-Col. Joseph C. Reddock, Laverne, Okla., who today led 13th AAF bombers to strike Dublon island in the third Truk bombing in five days from Solomons bases, told the story of the miscalculating Jap flier.

"This Zero," Reddock said, "was in a vertical dive at us when he dropped his bomb. You know Zeros dive faster than bombs fall. He ran into his own bomb about a hundred yards above us. Pieces of his wreckage fell through our formation."

Mrs. John Balukonis (shown), was among several persons routed when a two-alarm fire swept her home in East 8th st., South Boston. She saved her pet dog, Tootsie. Others forced to flee included Mrs. Victor Whitkens and her children, Dorothy and Lorraine.

No Fooling

NEW YORK, April 5 (AP)—Used to having her uncle playfully grab at the money as she made up payrolls, Nancy Tuttman shrugged when a hand reached over her shoulder and scooped up some greenbacks at the dress concern where she works.

Suddenly, she realized the hand was not that of her uncle and it wasn't fooling. She screamed, but the thief had fled with $2500.

All French Forces Ruled by De Gaulle

ALGIERS, April 5 (INS)—Gen. Charles de Gaulle has assumed supreme command over all French land, sea and air forces beyond Vichy's control, declaring in a broadcast that "the war has entered a decisive phase for France."

De Gaulle's new post of commander-in-chief was conferred upon him by his French Committee of National Liberation at an extraordinary meeting in Algiers, attended by two newly-admitted Communist members, Fernand Grenier and Francois Billoux.

This action, further consolidating the power of the general and the committee, was embodied in a decree which stated that the French governing body was taking over the "general direction of the war," with "sole authority" over the land, naval and air forces.

There was no immediate explanation as to how this move would affect Gen. Henri Honore Giraud, who has been up to the present the chief of the French armed forces.

The decree stated, however, that the ultimate authority over the armed forces would rest with the president of the Committee of Liberation—De Gaulle.

Red Renouncer Joins Exile Host

Boston Evening American Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON, April 5—Victor A. Kravchenko, Washington official of the Soviet purchasing commission, who denounced "double-faced" Russian foreign policy, is not the first red official here to turn against Communists in preference for the American way of life.

Numerous members of the Amtorg, Soviet trading agency in the United States, recent forerunner of the commission, have discovered democracy, cut away from their Communist connections and sought permanent asylum in this country, it was learned today.

As is probable with Kravchenko, who faces a firing squad if he were sent back to Russia, previous defectors from the Red fold were permitted to remain here by American authorities.

Kravchenko is understood to be in this country under an official visa designating him as a representative of the Soviet government. However, he is likely to be permitted to go to Canada to obtain a new visa which would allow him to re-enter the United States as a temporary visitor.

The State Department took no official cognizance of Kravchenko's denunciation which included charges that the Soviet's dissolution of the Comintern was a mockery and that Earl Browder, head of the Communist Party here, was a chameleon to the chanaging policies of Stalin.

If you're narrow chested, the Worsted-Tex British Lounge Model creates the illusion of fuller chest and broader shoulders.

If you're a bit on the short side, this model imparts a taller look.

It's all done through modern streamline design, fine materials and careful tailoring.

But there is nothing extreme about it. It is a gentleman's suit of clothes.

Draft Plan Hits Merchant Fleet

WASHINGTON, April 5 (INS)—The Merchant Marine training program was revealed today as one of the activities hardest hit by the new draft policy aimed at furnishing every possible available man below 26 to the Army and Navy.

The Maritime Commission, it was learned, was informed by the inter-agency committee on deferments that it could expect no deferment considerations for men under 26 who enrolled after April 1 in its merchant seaman schools.

Moreover, the agency's request for deferments of young administrative personnel and instructors in its 12 training schools throughout the country were denied. The commission was advised to use women and 4-F's but it was asserted this was impossible.

With the final verdict on deferments of key workers in the 22-26 age bracket awaiting next Tuesday's session of the WMC committee, National Draft Director Lewis B. Hershey warned that the 26-30 age group will be the next field for tightened draft measures. Asserting that not enough men will be gotten from the 574,000 industrial deferments between 22 and 26, he said:

"There will not be enough men in these two age groups released before July 1 to meet the calls. The balance must come from those over 30. The Selective Service system will take from this group initially those who are not making a substantial and material contribution to the winning of the war."

Norwood Flier In 163 Missions

Maj. George T. Lee, of Rock st., Norwood, a fighter-bomber pilot, flew his 164th mission this week and probably set a new record for his theater of operations, the Associated Press reported from Naples today.

Lee, who is 25 and a graduate of Norwood High School, has refused all offers of a furlough at home. He has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Medal with two Clusters.

He has had many hairbreadth escapes from death, including six crash landings, one of which was in Italy and in the midst of Italian troops who had just surrendered to the Allies.

Clears Way

CHICAGO (AP)—Mrs. Chevy Sodomire, granted a divorce from her husband on a charge of desertion, said in circuit court that six women had been telephoning her to ask when the divorce would come. Mrs. Sodomire exclaimed: "I want them to know that he's free again. They can come and get him."

Police Head Choice Surprises Malden

Malden Mayor John D. McCarthy's surprise appointment of William F. Sheridan, 34, as police commissioner, occasioned political speculation in Malden today.

Sheridan, an embalmer, who has never before held public office, is married and lives in the Fellsway. His name will go before the aldermen for confirmation on April 18.

Q—I was inducted into the Army in March, 1941, and was released in September of that same year on account of dependents. I was placed in the enlisted reserves and in August, 1942, was discharged honorably. Am I entitled to mustering-out pay? J. S. T., Everett.

A—Sorry, but you are not entitled to mustering-out benefit because you were not on active duty at anytime after Dec. 8, 1941.

Q—I received an Inaptitude Discharge from the Navy. Can I get back into the Navy, Coast Guard or Army? F. A. M., Dorchester.

A—Doubt if you are acceptable again for the Navy. Does your discharge also read "not recommended for re-enlistment?" However, it is possible you could apply for Army acceptance. Consult your local draft board regarding volunteering for the Army.

Q—I am in the Army. My mother died in 1930 and my aunt brought me up with my two sisters. I supported her as much as possible before entering service and now send her what I can. She is a widow and it is hard for her to get along on my few dollars. Could I apply for an allotment for my sisters and aunt? Sergt. W. B. S., Boston.

A—You may apply for an allotment for your aunt and two sisters. Consult your commanding officer and fill out necessary allotment blanks which he should have or knows where they may be obtained. It is up to Office of Dependency for U. S. Army as to amount they will receive if investigation proves your case worthy.

Sister Kenny Warns Against Short-Cuts in Infantile Care

Special to Boston Evening American

SAN FRANCISCO, April 5—Pleading for teachers trained in the true Kenny method, Sister Elizabeth Kenny struck out forcefully today against those in America who take dangerous short-cuts.

She spent the morning among the children and staff members at Children's Hospital, somehow managed an unscheduled surprise visit to the crippled children at Shriner's Hospital, and finished the day with a lecture at the Health Center Auditorium to a professional audience.

"It was natural that I didn't find an open heart and open mind when I first came to this country because my concept of the disease was so revolutionary," she told the audience.

As the final event of her day Sister Kenny recorded for the Office of War Information, a program that will be broadcast to Australia.

As she faced 200 doctors and nurses across the body of a small and crippled girl at Children's Hospital, she said, the United States desperately needs those teachers to combat infantile paralysis.

"The National Foundation (for infantile paralysis) seems to think that all you need to do is go around with a bowl of water and sprinkle it on and say, 'I baptize thee a Kenny technician,'" She added.

She declared it requires a minimum of two years of intensive study under her direction to develop a true Kenny teacher.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Muffins

2 tablespoons shortening
¾ cup sugar
1 egg
1 cup Kellogg's All-Bran
¾ cup milk
1 cup sifted flour
½ teaspoon salt
2½ teaspoons baking powder

Blend shortening and sugar thoroughly. Add egg and beat well. Stir in All-Bran and milk. Let soak until most of moisture is taken up. Sift flour with salt and baking powder; add to first mixture. Stir only until flour disappears. Fill greased muffin pans ⅔ full. Bake in hot oven (400°F.) about 30 minutes. Yield: 9 large muffins.

If for spiced muffins, add 1 tablespoon molasses to creamed mixture, and ½ teaspoon ginger or 1 teaspoon cinnamon to dry ingredients.

If for nut muffins, add ½ cup chopped nut meats to dry ingredients.

And remember, too, KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN by itself is a rich, natural source of the whole grain "protective" food elements — protein, the B vitamins, phosphorus, calcium and iron!

Lake in Talk at Filene's Cheers Kin of AEF Men

Mothers, wives and sweethearts of soldiers abroad had a hands-across-the-sea reunion with their loved ones yesterday, with Austen Lake, Boston American war correspondent, answering questions closest to their hearts.

Lake, a veteran of World War I, who recently returned from his second trip to England during the present war, gave a talk and answered questions before 300 women at William Filene's Sons Co. restaurant. The store management sponsored the meeting.

Most of the luncheoners were graying mothers, although several fathers were there to seek word of sons Lake had met in England. One of the dads asked:

"Do you remember Capt. Howard Casey?"

Lake did.

"Is he all right?"

"Yes sir, he's on top of the world," Lake replied.

The query came from Edward J. Casey of Pond st., Jamaica Plain, father of the Howard Casey who starred for Princeton at football, now a veteran of Tunisia and holder of the Silver Star. The elder Casey heard the good news with his wife, Gertrude and Capt. Caseys' wife, Claire.

ASKS ABOUT DAUGHTER

A quiet little woman stood up to ask if Lake knew her daughter, an Army nurse who married overseas.

"I do and I can tell you she married a substantial citizen," Lake assured her.

It was something new in war correspondence by way of the spoken word and mothers throughout the room smiled upon the mother who had asked the question.

So many of the questions concerned individuals rather than conditions, Lake had to ask for broader queries which might interest everyone.

What the mothers wanted to know, nevertheless, was news of their sons. Mrs. Jacob Chofnas of Walnut st., Roxbury, walked to the head table to inquire if Lake could give her word of her boy, Capt. Irving Chofnas, 27, Medical Corps officer. He had been cited for work in evacuating hospitalized men in North Africa. His mother returned to her seat happy in what she could glean from Lake.

No matter how sparse the war correspondent's information might be, and even when he frankly admitted he could not remember an individual soldier, the women seemed to find comfort in the contact from one who had lived among their sons or husbands.

ARE BOYS WELL FED?

Were the boys well fed in England? Were they well housed? Did they have good medical attention? These reflected the maternal anxiety which had drawn so many women together for news of their sons.

Lake predicted they would find their sons and husbands changed when they come home after the war. "I talked with hundreds of them," he said, "and it was as though war had acted upon them like a flame on a subject matter in a crucible. It has burned away the superficialities like dross. It has left them the intrinsic worth of manhood. They discuss the simplicities, their homes, the fundamentals of life."

They expect to return to a world which will give them opportunities and jobs," he said, "and I'll tell you they had better have them."

He emphatically urged the mothers to be alert now to opportunities for their boys after the war.

At the head table were Lincoln Filene, Col. Walter Brown, public relations officer of the First Service Command; Harold D. Hodgkinson, vice-president of Filene's, and head of the USO here; William H. McLeod, vice-president of Filene's; Mrs. Sidney Beggs, vice-chairman of the Citizens Committee for the Army and Navy; Harold G. Kern, publisher of the Record-American and Sunday Advertiser, and Mrs. Kern, director of the Citizens Committee.

Demand Full Facts On Grim Asia Crisis

By RAY RICHARDS

WASHINGTON, April 5—Representatives Harry R. Sheppard, California Democrat, and Bertrand W. Gearhart, California Republican, pleaded today for a complete answer by the Allied leadership to the "frightening questions" that have developed from the new Asiatic war situation.

Rep. Gearhart said a formal White House statement is required.

Rep. Sheppard asserted that Congress and the American people cannot evade the belief that the China of the future, perhaps all of Asia, may be divided between Russian and Japanese spheres of influence.

Both congressmen complained bitterly against the falsely rosy nature of New Delhi communiques of the Japanese entry to India an enemy success which obviously is only in its early planned stages, they said, and which may turn into a catastrophe for the Allies.

Congress cannot function properly as the people's only direct branch of the government if it is kept in its present state of mystified dread, Sheppard and Gearhart claimed, as they joined the large element of the national legislature that lately has begun to look askance at the state of the war.

"Our fear that Japan will in the end control half of China or all Asia, and Russia the other half may not be justified," Sheppard stated.

"But the few things we know and the many things we suspect regarding the strange events in Asia indicate that it is justified.

"We should like to face harsh facts squarely if they exist, or have our minds set at rest if they do not exist."

Senator Reynolds pointed out that the reported 3,000,000 Chinese Communist troops in the north are not in close alliance, as to national objectives, with 2,000,000 Chiang Kai-shek Loyalists in the south, and that, just as Russia will endeavor to push Communist influence across Europe to the English Channel, so will she attempt to dominate a greater part of Asia.

Lettuce and Peas Stand Cold Ground

By FOSTER H. WEISS

Head, Market Garden Dept., Norfolk County Agriculture School and Director of the Boston Record-American-Sunday Advertiser Demonstration Garden on Boston Common.

Recent cold nights—with temperatures as low as 15 degrees in some areas—give a pretty good idea of what victory gardeners may expect for weather at this early stage of the spring season. It is not yet advisable to start gardening, but several gardeners who already have planted peas and lettuce have asked what results they can expect.

If the peas are on well drained soil and of smooth variety they will probably stand the cold ground. Wrinkled seed should not be put in until the ground has had a chance to warm up. Lettuce seed is hardy, and unless we run into a long wet spell, it probably will come through.

If you are getting plants started in cold frames you must keep in mind that the glass should be covered at night to prevent loss of heat. Commercial growers use straw or burlap mats for this purpose, but for the grower with only a few frames any covering that will protect the glass will be satisfactory. On cold days close the sash by midafternoon and cover glass to hold the heat in.

Onion sets are scarce and expensive this year and the quality is none too good. This is due in part to the failure of the midwestern crop last summer. If you are unable to get sets I would suggest that you try some plants which are available through some of the seed houses.

As a last resort a few onions can be grown from seed, but do not expect too much from seed grown onions as they do not usually produce well in this area.

If you are working with a new plot of land this year it will be well to check for the effects of shade later in the season.

Grow a few radishes—this crop more than any other is usually overplanted in most gardens. To get good quality they must be used fast. For the average family a row 10 or 12 feet planted at one time is sufficient. Let me suggest that you try a few between your early cabbage plants. These will be out before the cabbage spreads out too much.

HEALTH MUFFINS

SOME TEN OR ELEVEN YEARS ago when Waldorf brought out Fruit and Nut Health Muffins, we never for a moment dreamed that the public's constantly growing enthusiasm would cause the production to jump to such astounding proportions.

• Indeed our tender new infant of a decade ago, which at that time was making its first bow in Boston, now is a husky big boy with a deep bass voice.

• We have never talked much about these delicious muffins, hardly ever even displayed a sign about them at our serving counters. Like Topsy, they "grew and grew" . . . entirely on their own merits.

• And still, when you think of it, why shouldn't they be popular! Think of the contents which contribute to the flavor of these bakery gems, and all the nourishment that is within them! There is the whole wheat flour, the walnuts, raisins, dates, buttermilk, sugar, eggs and a host of other good things, all delightfully packed together in a big brown muffin with its fresh crusty top, through which peeks the luscious red maraschino cherry.

• Good? You bet they are good, especially when they are fresh. And, as we bake twice a day, ours are always fresh.

A Test of Friendship To War Veterans

MILLIONS of persons in Massachusetts recall the shameful neglect of the veterans of World War I.

It was one of the darkest chapters in our State and national history.

It was a carelessness and callousness which everybody said would never be repeated.

BUT IT IS BEING REPEATED.

It is being repeated in the dictatorial determination of various political leaders to rush the special session of the Legislature to a hasty adjournment without time for action on a number of humanitarian measures calculated to restore servicemen to their rightful places in the community without hardship or suffering.

It is being repeated in the unfair, unjust and illogical efforts of some committee members to prevent the Senate and House from enacting legislation reducing the voting age from twenty-one to eighteen so that young men who are risking their lives for democracy may have a voice in it.

It is being repeated in the parsimonious opposition to a soldiers' bonus, to the extension of veterans' hospital facilities and to the establishment of centers for discharged and disabled servicemen.

Such behavior is unworthy of Massachusetts.

It is particularly unworthy of gentlemen who plan to seek re-election or promotion to higher offices on the claim that the fighting men's future is safe in their hands.

The best test of a legislator's friendship to the war veterans is his conduct during the special session.

It is the only test which the parents, relatives and friends of thousands of men in the armed forces will accept.

Get Facts About Gasoline

PHILIP C. THIBODEAU, general manager of the Automobile Legal Association, has charged that New England is suffering unjustly in respect to gasoline.

Mr. Thibodeau recently said:

"Figures made public a few days ago indicate daily deliveries to the East Coast have reached an all-time high of 1,790,960 barrels per day.

"The average peacetime consumption on the East Coast amounted to only 1,300,000 barrels a day."

On the basis of those statistics, Mr. Thibodeau concluded that it was "time to end the discrimination which has existed against the East Coast ever since the 'phony' gasoline shortage of 1941."

New England motorists have accepted the fuel restrictions with few complaints.

The consensus of opinion has always been that sacrifices necessary to the winning of the war should be regarded as a patriotic obligation.

But New England motorists cannot be expected to become reconciled to shortages and scarcities that are arbitrarily and needlessly imposed by some Washington bureaucrat.

Our Senators and Congressmen should make it their business to find out how much gasoline is available for the New England area and how much of it can be allotted to civilian use.

With the coming of warm weather, requirements for heating oil are bound to taper off.

It is logical to assume that more liberal gasoline sales could be permitted without any harmful effect on the war effort.

Boston Must Be Clean

BOSTON officials have warned more than five hundred persons to clean their premises within twenty-four hours or face court prosecution.

Such action should not be necessary; civic pride should prevent it.

The person who tolerates a littered lawn or a rubbish-strewn driveway is a menace to the community.

He not only ruins the appearance of his neighborhood but he lowers the value of all adjacent property.

What is even worse, he invites numerous diseases which result from filth.

Thousands of children have died from illnesses caused by unsanitary conditions in the areas in which they had the misfortune to live.

Public opinion therefore strongly supports Frederick A. Fitzgerald, acting Health Department inspector in charge of the Keep-Boston-Clean campaign, when he says:

"We are really going to get tough with householders who refuse to rake and sweep their unsightly backyards and alleys.

"Everyone has had sufficient warning, and all persons who fail to co-operate in our drive will face the consequences in court."

HAVE ALWAYS claimed a book indicating the origin of the most quoted passages in literature would be a handy thing to have. Since nobody has produced such a book, I will quote some of said passages as above, which is from Dr. Faustus, and if interested you can paste them in your scrap book . . . As to how Charles Chaplin got his start as a film comedian, I have read many stories lately but none had it right. When Chaplin was playing in a sketch titled "A Night in a London Music Hall" at Hammerstein's Victoria Music Hall in Manhattan, Mike Selwyn of the theater's staff was struck with the idea the comedian would be good in the movies. Mike recommended Chaplin to Ad Kessel of Kessel and Bauman, owners of Keystone Comedy Co. Kessel signed Chaplin up for $125 a week and sent him west to work under the direction of Mack Sennett. Chaplin made his first big hit in "Tillie's Punctured Romance," which starred Marie Dressler. The baggy pants comedian stole the picture from the great Marie, which was no mean feat. (Note—Incidentally Ad Kessel, who first signed Chaplin, was a former bookmaker at the New York tracks. Last I heard of Ad he was running a used car lot in Brooklyn.)

THAT STRUGGLE: "All Brides Are Beautiful" is the title of a novel by Thomas Bell. It deals with the economic struggles of a young couple. Did you have much of a struggle when getting your matrimonial career under way? We started off with a rush. Rented a house overlooking the Hudson at Nyack, N. Y., bought a car, hired a maid and everything. After six months of struggling to make ends meet we made a big decision. We sold house and the car, let the maid go and moved into a small apartment in Manhattan and started all over again.

ASIDES: Recent radio ratings place Bob Hope as the country's number one attraction. Bing Crosby is rated as number 15. I think if Bing sang more on his programs and talked less his rating would improve considerably . . . Over 2000 years ago, in 310 B. C., Menander said: "A chaste woman ought not to dye her hair yellow." Just goes to show how long people have been picking on the synthetic blondes, poor girls.

PASSING BY: George Jessel, Now a film producer. He will make a picture based on the life of O. Henry. I never met O. Henry, but have known many fellows who did. Charlie Somerville, great newspaperman of yesteryear, told me he attended a party in Greenwich Village given by Swallow, the Mad Juggler, at which O. Henry was present. That must have been some party . . . Kathryn Kuhn, Scintillating stylist. Ever notice how many people with alliterative names have succeeded. Maybe I should change my name to Danny Durling . . . Helen Holmes. If you don't remember Helen in the railroad serials of silent film days you can't join the Young Old Timers . . . Joan Crawford. After 18 years as a film star, Joan wants to be an actress on the stage. She's looking for a play. Miss Crawford is also about to adopt another child. She has already adopted two.

RECORD: Am asked what is the record for the oldest father at time of a birth of a child. It is probably held by George Isaac Hughes of New Bern, N. C., who at the age of 94 became the proud pappy of a bouncing boy, George's wife, Libby, was 26 at the time. In 1936, at the age of 96, Mr. Hughes became the father of a daughter.

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS: Q—What do you think of Joseph Schildkraut to play the part of Jack Barrymore in the film version of Gene Fowler's "Good Night, Sweet Prince?" A—Schildkraut is a great actor but I still prefer Brian Aherne to play Barrymore. Q—Do you remember the Guttenberg, N. J., racetrack? A—Before my time as a turf fan. My uncle Al, however, often told me about Guttenberg. He said a noble animal named Blitzen that raced there was called "The Iron Horse," because he went to the post about every other day and was nearly always in the money.

ALMOST CONFIDENTIAL: Ty Cobb has stated that if Babe Herman once batted for him he does not remember it. I have made the statement that Babe batted for Ty and have some stogies staked on it. I have not heard from Herman yet and will not pay off until I investigate the matter thoroughly . . . Now I have a reader in Embarass, Wis. I am not doing so badly for a poor boy from Brooklyn . . . Some people wonder why this department has the answers to so many questions. It is because we have so many remarkably well-informed readers. For example, a Bostonian writes: "The war between Russia and Japan started at Chemulpol, Korea, Feb. 9, 1904, at 11:55 a. m. I know because I was there serving as a seaman on the U. S. S. Vicksburg, a gunboat."

BRIEFLY: Figures furnished me indicate there will be 9,000,000 men of voting age in the United States armed forces next November. Now I note an expert claims there will be 11,000,000 voters in the armed forces at presidential election time. Five million of these will be overseas . . . A U. S. Navy man was home on furlough after being in much action in the Pacific from which he escaped unharmed. At home he slipped while stepping into the bathtub, cracked his skull and died shortly after. When is somebody going to invent a non-slippable bathtub?

SIDELIGHTS: Curtis Deatrick of East Berlin, Pa., has been a continuous subscriber of the News-Comet of that city for 61 years . . . An extensive check on photographs of married couples seems to prove that husband and wife do grow to look alike. But don't worry, Lady. It hardly ever happens until after 30 years of marriage . . . The U. S. government has been selling some cavalry horses at auction. These animals are all over 10 years old. The horses of the New York Mounted Police, most of which come from Idaho, cost $250 apiece.

Hollywood Today

By Louella O. Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, April 5—Gloria Swanson, as slender and young looking as she was when she was the toast of the country as a De Mille star, has had an offer to return to Hollywood.

She looked so wonderful when I saw her at Grace Moore's party in New York. Jeffrey Bernerd, who made the highly successful juvenile delinquency movie "Where Are Your Children?" for Monogram, long-distanced Gloria to star in "Are These Your Parents?"

In discussing the parent delinquency story, Bernerd said he got the idea from an editorial in the Hearst newspapers. "I am not sure Miss Swanson will accept our offer," he told me. "because she has been asked to do a stage play. But we are hoping she will." If the parents' angle of the delinquency problem is as good as the children's story, Gloria would be making a mistake to turn it down. Monogram is making better and better pictures all the time.

IRVING CUMMINGS, one of our better directors (I don't remember his ever making a really bad movie), has signed a Columbia contract which gives him the sun, moon and stars. He'll direct, produce and head his own company in a deal whereby he makes six pictures in the next three years for Columbia and is also free to do outside work. Irving has really been with Harry Cohn more than he has been with 20th. He directed Rosalind Russell in "What a Woman" for them and is working there with Jean Arthur in "Impatient Years." Irving still has two to make at 20th on an old assignment and then he joins the Cohn brigade.

A TRAGIC AFTERMATH of the death of Myron Selznick was the passing of his executive manager, Sig Marcus, 45 years old, at St. John's Hospital in Santa Monica last night. There was no one in his organization closer to Myron than Sig, who handled all contracts, and when Myron was out of the city, ran the agency business. He had a stroke the day after Myron died and the grief over the death of his friend and business associate of 15 years brought it on. Those who had any dealings with Sig Marcus knew him as an upright, square shooter. I have known him for a period of many years and often checked him for stories on Selznick. My sympathy, with the sympathy of all Hollywood goes to his wife and child and father in the passing of a devoted husband, father and son.

GARETH HUGHES, one of the few actors ever to enter a monastery and to become a priest, has been engaged by Warners to act as technical advisor on "The Corn Is Green." Fr. Hughes, who knows all there is to know about Welsh accents, will teach actors in the Bette Davis movie to speak properly. I remember him so well on the screen in such movies as "Sentimental Tommy." He had a rare sensitiveness, and even then a strong spiritual quality. Now his hair is snow white and it is hard to believe that at one time he was a romantic and successful leading man on the screen.

JUDGING FROM her letter, Nan Wynn is lost to Hollywood for good. Not only is she marrying Cy Howard on April 30, but the prospective bridegroom is writing a musical in which Nan will have a role on Broadway. She writes: "If what I say doesn't make sense, it is because I am so happy and so much is love. I've known Cy only a month, but it seems like forever. We fell in love, strangely enough, after having a big argument the first time we met. Cy was the comedian on a radio show and I was the singer. When my number was over I lost my place in the script and threw him completely off cue for one of his biggest laughs. We fell in love while we were battling it out."

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD COLLECTED AT RANDOM: George Brent is still devoting himself to Janet Michaels; Barbara Stanwyck and her favorite lieutenant, Bob Taylor, sat and held hands at Mary and Jack Benny's party with eyes only for each other. Bob had only 24 hours' leave. They, like all the other guests, listened to the impromptu program. Danny Kaye, never better, entertained for a half hour. Jack, George Burns and George Murphy did a rover boy song and dance and Jack laughed so hard at George Burns he actually fell on the floor. Jane Wyman sang and rated big applause and so did Benny Fields, who was there with Blossom. It was a sort of farewell party for Mary and Jack before they leave for their camp tour. Joan Bennett much admired in a white and red summer dress, Claudette Colbert, Ann Warner, Mrs. Ray Milland, Gracie Allen and Gail Patrick, there with Norman Taurog, were among the attractive women with whom I chatted. The tables were arranged around the swimming pool and so many of the stars have been away on camp tours it was pleasant seeing them together again; Kay Francis is home from another tour to Alaska and Canada.

My Day

By Eleanor Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, Tuesday—Still reviewing my trip, I want to tell you of my visit to Guatemala. The day we left Galapagos, we started in the early morning and landed at a U. S. base on the coast of Guatemala.

A half hour's flight from our base brought us to Guatemala City, 5000 feet above sea level. We could see high mountains all around and, below us, flat plateaus, with farms on top and deep chasms dropping off.

On the less steep hillsides, the Indians, who are the farmers of the mountain districts, build their huts and seem to find places to grow what they need.

* * *

THESE INDIANS are short, dark and stocky and, in Guatemala City, they told me they were "good Indians." Each little village has some custom of its own and some particular costume. In the highlands, they wear kilts like the Scotch.

Guatemala City is clean and attractive, with a delightful climate.

* * *

PRESIDENT AND MRS. UBICO showed me through the national palace, which houses all the departments of government.

Gen. Brett took me to "Los Cipreses," which is a club run by Guatemalan ladies for our service men. They will not permit the boys to pay for anything because they want it to be like a real home.

That Rose Complexion

Beauty

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE

SPRING MAY TURN a young man's fancy to that "old feeling" . . . but the sprouting season is when a gal takes official notice of her hands . . . the expression medium of her entire personality . . . the romantic key to loveliness.

And, this spring . . . so particularly sentimental is spring always in war-time . . . feminine hands must be cleverly cheerful, vivaciously bright and sparkling.

It is no secret that feminine fingertips should be like rose petals . . . ditto her mouth and face . . . for the rose celebrated throughout history has a romance all its own.

Sappho, poetess of Ancient Greece, wrote so knowingly, "If Jupiter wished to give the flower a queen, the rose would be the queen."

Madame Pompadour in a glorious white gown . . . carried long-stem roses and wore a wreath of roses in her hair. Madame Du Barry wore pink roses in her hair . . . and carried a magnificent fan of pink roses on gray tulle. Lillian Russell, darling of the American footlights, carried an armful of red roses at the slightest provocation. And Empress Josephine, Napoleon's better-half, made rose-growing fashionable in her time.

FITTING AND PROPER

So it is both fitting and proper that a cosmetic house famed as color orginators for hand and lip preparations should utilize the symbol of the rose in offering a tournament of roses for Milady's hands, lips and complexion . . . in four rose-touched colors perfected to harmonize with the pinks, the greens, the singing yellows . . . all the bud colors that stand out so vividly in the springtime scene . . . and so right for your flowered cloche hat . . . your center-parted hair . . . your button-down-the-back "little girl" dresses that you'll be wearing this romantic season.

In a luscious rose-covered miniature hatbox . . . you can now get nail enamel, adheron, lipstick and blending, exquisitely-textured face powder . . . all packaged together in a vision of loveliness.

No worry about clashing colors . . . assured always of a symphony of color gaiety for your nails, your mouth and your face. What a happy idea!

For the name of this dream rose-vision-in-one tiny hatbox, phone the Beauty Dept., LIBerty 4000, except the week-end, or write me care of the Boston Evening American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

A DREAMY, ROSY LOOK is fashion news this springtime in your clothes, your hairdo and your complexion . . . and to create a feminine illusion of loveliness in expressive hands . . . to match the luscious warmth of lips and complexion . . . there is a hatbox rose-tournament of the essentials you need to achieve the picture. For, this season, hands must be brilliantly gay and sparkling . . . like the natural bloom of your cheeks . . . and the vibrant warmth of carmine-splashed lips.

Smile as They Pass By

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX—I'm 44 years old, have three children, a good husband and a job in a war plant. I've fallen in love with one of the men who's in another department. He smiles at me, winks his eye and I just have to hold my breath, because the feeling that goes over me is like a fever.

I don't like to give up this job as I like it and earn a very good salary. What can I do to get rid of this feeling I have toward him, that I would be willing to give up everything just to go to him? Of course, he never has mentioned anything to make me believe he'd want me. Please answer. H. L.

Don't take this "second blooming" too seriously. Loads of women experience it and take it exactly for what it's worth. You're 44 years old, married, have three children, and probably the man has had the same amount of domesticity you've had. You enjoy seeing him—the wink—which gives you confidence in yourself. You still have the power to charm. Now, that's mighty reassuring, sister, when one's 44 years old.

Don't let this new romantic interest swamp you to the degree of doing something cheap and foolish. And why consider for a moment giving up your job? Keep on with the job and keep your head.

Easter Breakfast Should Be Special

By MARTHA LEE

EASTER SUNDAY MORNING is one of those special occasions when we serve breakfast with a flourish. Of course we'll have eggs—this year of all years, when they are so plentiful. But let's not have them "just eggs"—make a handsome puffy omelet, serve it with crisp bacon strips and garnish with bright green sprigs of parsley.

OMELET AMBROSIAL

4 eggs separated
3 tbsp. butter
3 tbsp. flour
1 cup milk
½ tsp. salt
⅛ tsp. pepper
2 tbsp. fat

Prepare a sauce as follows: Melt fat, add flour and stir over low heat until blended. Add cold milk all at once. Stir and cook until thickened. Meanwhile add salt to whites and beat until stiff but not dry. Beat egg yolks. Add slightly cooled sauce and pepper to yolks and blend thoroughly, then fold into whites.

Pour into moderately hot skillet (about 10 in. diameter) in which 1 tablespoon fat has been melted. Level surface if necessary, spreading gently. Cook over low heat until delicately browned on bottom, about 5 minutes. Transfer to moderately low oven (325 deg. F.). Cook until surface is dry, omelet is firm in center and springs when pressed lightly with finger-tip, about 15 to 20 minutes.

SHIRRED EGGS

Grease individual baking dishes with butter, margarine or bacon fat. Sprinkle bread crumbs generously over bottom, or cut ½-inch sliced bread to fit the bottom. Circle one or two bacon strips around the edge of dish. Slip an egg into each. Bake in a moderate oven (350 to 375 deg. F.) 12 to 20 minutes, depending upon the firmness desired. Top each with a lump of butter. Serve from baking dishes. Pass salt and pepper.

VARIATIONS

Top each egg before baking with buttered soft crumbs, grated cheese or cheese and crumbs mixed.

Line bottom with chopped cooked meat, liver or sausage.

Line bottom with cooked, mashed or chopped well-seasoned vegetables, carrots, peas, spinach, squash or any favorite vegetable.

Pour one to two tablespoons top milk or cream over each egg before baking.

Remember, too, how good delicious hot breads can be at breakfast time. It takes but a few minutes to whip them up and they add so much to any meal.

CORN MUFFINS

1½ cups sifted flour
2½ tsp. combination baking powder

CORN MUFFINS

¾ tsp. salt
2 tbsp. sugar
¾ cup corn meal
2 eggs, well beaten
1 cup milk
¼ tbsp. melted butter or other shortening

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt and sugar, and sift again. Add corn meal and mix well. Combine eggs, milk and shortening; add to flour mixture, beating only enough to dampen all flour. Bake in greased muffin pans in hot oven (425 deg. F.) 25 minutes, or until done. Makes 12 muffins. May also be baked in greased bread stick pans.

POPOVERS

1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
½ tsp. salt.
¾ cup, plus 2 tbsp. milk 2 eggs
½ tsp. melted shortening

Put muffin pans or thick custard cups into a very hot oven of 450 deg. F. to heat just before you start to make the popovers. Sift together the flour and salt; then add milk gradually while beating with a spoon to make a smooth batter. Beat eggs until very thick and add to batter mixture. Add the shortening, then beat for 2 minutes with a hand or electric beater. Fill the hot, greased or oiled muffin pans or custard cups 2-3 full. Bake in a very hot oven of 450 deg. F. for 30 minutes. Then lower the heat to a moderate oven of 350 deg. F. and bake for 10 minutes longer. Makes 9 popovers.

Note—If you own an electric blender, you can mix up excellent popovers in no time.

Fashion

Navy Blue, White Ideal Easter Color Combination

By BETTINA BEDWELL

A GROUP of fashion editors lunching together recently agreed that for Easter, if you're going to wear a suit, there is no color combination better than navy blue and white, so I'm telling you what the experts say.

I am in complete accord, and I'd rather like to add that for the slim, youthful figure navy blue and white in a bolero suit like the Adele Simpson model in our sketch would be tops.

Adele Simpson has a magic touch in designing clothes for Miss and Mrs. America, and this model shows her in a good mood. The material of the bolero jacket and draped skirt is smooth navy wool, and the blouse is heavy white crepe with crystal buttons down the front. The slim skirt is made graceful by drapery at the left side of the front, with a jabot effect of the material. The smart beret hat is white faille.

THE PRINCE'S SIDELINE

Star Shine

By Sidney Skolsky

HOLLYWOOD, April 5—While patroling Hollywood, which is my beat, I always meet that character who just returned from a trip to New York, and the routine is always the same.

The man who has come back from this visit to New York always acts as if you didn't know what was going on there, were completely isolated from all information about it, and proceeds to tell you about the Broadway shows, the night clubs and the restaurants.

There are only two shows in New York, practically every returning character will tell you, that are tops—"The Voice of the Turtle" and "Oklahoma," and as for the rest of them, why the movies we are making here are better.

This, despite the fact that practically all the other plays have been purchased by film companies to make movies which will be better than the majority of next season's Broadway shows.

Another cliche that you have to listen to is about how crowded Broadway is, why every night is like Saturday night and Saturday night is like New Year's Eve. And, of course, every actor, actress, producer and director who went to New York for a vacation returns saying that they didn't get a rest and now they're back in town they need a vacation. The visit to New York really gets them.

The best comment I have heard about New York was this remark made by Gertrude Flournoy who said, "New York is a great place to live, but I sure hate to visit it."

★ ★ ★

EVERYBODY COMES to the Schwabadero, and the newest thing here is an art exhibition. There are no paintings on display, but an artist who wanted his drawings to be seen by Hollywood merely walked into Schwabs and left a book of them titled "Hollywood Hangover," on the counter near the cash register. Now everyone who comes up to Louise to pay his check, stops and looks at the works of Artist Lew Landsman, which is exactly what he wanted. No one knows Artist Landsman, but he left his book on the counter and there it stays. It is hoped that when he believes everyone in Hollywood has seen his drawings, Artist Landsman will call for his collection.

WHILE I WANDER about the Hollywood beat, I always try to drop in on various scenario writers, catch them in their act, and then sit around and discuss the subject of writing. Practically every writer has his own method of getting those words down on paper, and they all have a theory about their craft.

After listening to numerous discourses on how to write a scenario, I can give you an abbreviated version of how to write a play, and you don't have to go to any technical and thick volume on the subject. Writers, I have discovered, learn from other writers and do not hesitate to quote these writers. Philip Barry was in Hollywood only briefly, and his main contribution was this short formula that he left for writing a play.

Barry said: "The first act you carefully place all your characters on a rug so the audience can know them. The second act you pull the rug from under them. The third act you see to it that the rug is back and the characters are all standing on it."

George M. Cohan had the same formula for writing a play, but he worded it in this manner: "The first act you get your hero up in a tree. The second act you throw stones at him. The third act you get the hero down from the tree without a scratch."

"O. K. Papa. He can have it now!"

Buying the Vote

By George E. Sokolsky

THE quarrel between Sidney Hillman and David Dubinsky over the control of the now Communist-owned American Labor party has brought to the surface this startling fact: The International Ladies Garment Workers Union, consisting of 162,000 members in New York, has contributed $532,999.39 to the funds of that party from 1936 to 1943 inclusive. It will be recalled that the United Mine Workers contributed $500,000 to Mr. Roosevelt's re-election in 1936. It will be noted that Mr. Hillman is now taxing C. I. O. members for a fourth term campaign and that his treasury for this purpose should amount to about $2,000,000. Mr. Dubinsky's formal statement on the subject will show that his union contributed about $140,000 to insure Mayor La Guardia's elections in 1937 and 1941.

No American corporation may contribute to election campaign funds. It is against the law. And the theory behind that law is sound. The money of a corporation is the property of its stockholders. Those stockholders may be Republicans, Democrats, Communists, and anything else. The officers of a corporation have no right to invade the sphere of the political activities of its stockholders.

THE SAME RULE applies to labor unions. The funds of a labor union are the property of its members. Those members may be Republicans, Democrats or Communists. The officers of the union have no legal or moral right, directly or indirectly, to invade the private domain of the individual's political participation in the affairs of his country. When Mr. Hillman, for instance, taxes labor unions for a campaign for a fourth term, he is forcing many men to pay for the election of a candidate against whom they will vote.

Mike Quill's transportation union contains a large body of fine, old-line Americans of Irish descent, good Catholics who oppose Communism as a moral as well as a political evil. Mike Quill has publicly followed the Communist Party line and so has his union. Mike Quill is an outstanding personality in the Browder-Hillman coalition which now controls the American Labor Party which is the de facto successor to the Communist Party. Has Mike Quill or any other labor leader the right to vote the funds of their members against the consciences of those members?

YOU MIGHT ASK why the men do not protest. Experience has shown that kickers get into trouble. In the days of Lepke and such, they were bumped off. Nowadays, they are penalized in many ways. A worker has to think of his meals and his children and his job. He lets the leaders do as they like and he conforms. It is easier that way. Of course, he votes against his leaders in the election booth; that has been evident for several years now. But he does not talk about it.

The issue in this matter is the corruption of a democratic electoral system by the public and secret contribution of huge sums by labor unions to campaign funds. And the labor unions possess huge treasuries. The Vinson report showed labor union assets of close to $100,000,000 and that was several years ago. I have a list before me of the assets of particular unions that run between $1,000,000 and $25,000,000.

Now a significant fact in connection with the half-million dollar contribution of Dubinsky's union—which is one of the best managed and socially most advantageous to its members—is that the party to which this money went made a business of endorsing Republican or Democratic candidates who gained an election by the addition of A. L. P. votes to those of their own party.

IN A RECENT congressional election in New York city, the A. L. P. gave its endorsement to a Tammany warhorse with no labor record and opposed a Republican gentleman, a former congressman whose labor record was so outstanding that the A. F. of L. voluntarily recommended him. The Tammanyite was defeated on a straight Republican-Democratic vote, but was elected by the additional A. L. P. vote. You can readily see what this trick is worth and how it is played. It is a crooked business all around and is now fortunately receiving the emetic of publicity.

"I'm not planting any more this year than my wife can comfortably hoe!"

Cornell Due Here on April 24

Katharine Cornell will bring her comedy success, "Lovers and Friends," to the Plymouth Theater on Monday evening, April 24, for a fortnight's engagement.

This play written by Dodie Smith, produced by Miss Cornell and John C. Wilson and directed by the star's husband, Guthrie McClintic, has flourished in New York since last November.

Henry Daniell has stepped into the role vacated by Raymond Massey, now in Hollywood. Others in the case are Carol Goodner, Arthur Margetson, Anne Burr and Katherine Hynes.

"Lovers and Friends" concerns itself with the family affairs of Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Boswell of Regent's Park, London, covering the time between the two World Wars. It begins in Regent's Park when Stella Prior brings her roommate's regrets that she cannot meet the waiting Canadian officer. The final scene, an epilogue, finds the two back on the park knoll, reviewing the 25 years of their life together.

'Night's Dream' To Open April 27

"A Midsummer Night's Dream," now being cast by Director Eliot Duvey of the Tributary Theater, will have an April 27 opening. Harry Ellis Dickson is the musical director.

Jack Conway's column of sports appears every day in the Boston American.

'Allah Be Praised' Switches

"Allah Be Praised!" Alfred Bloomingdale's new musical with Patricia Morison, Mary Jane Walsh, John Hoysradt, Joey Faye and Edward Roecker, will transfer from the Shubert to the Majestic on Monday for four extra days here.

Producer Bloomingdale has arranged with E. M. Loew to restore the Majestic to the legitimate field for a Wednesday matinee and four evening performances commencing Monday evening . . . "Pretty Little Parlor," Stella Adler and Sidney Blackmer, will remain at the Wilbur Theater for a third week beginning Monday night . . . "Dream With Music," due to begin a two-week engagement at the Shubert April 17, has advanced the box office sale to next Monday.

Andrews Sisters Headline

The Andrews Sisters, who made their stage debut here less than five years ago and have since become the nation's jukebox queens,

LA VERNE, BETTY AND MAXENE ANDREWS

are the headliners with Mitchell Ayres and his orchestra in the new RKO-Boston stage show starting tomorrow.

For accompanying film fare, there will be "Moonlight In Vermont," which teams youthful Gloria Jean and Ray Malone in a romantic comedy that moves from New England to New York.

Maxene, Patty and LaVerne Andrews, who got their start doing amateur shows and community contests in their native Minneapolis, first went professional with Leon Belasco's band. At the same time, they did a "Bei Mir Bist du Schoen" recording that was to be the beginning of a beautiful friendship between them and the music-machine customers.

The Ayres band speciality is "Fashions In Music." Ruth McCullough and Dick Dyer are the featured vocalists and, of course, there is the indispensible Glee Club. Shea and Raymond contribute comedy and dancing and Eleanor Teeman, a dance specialty.

The Smart Set

By BETTY ALDEN

FEW BOSTONIANS realize that one of the Hub's most popular debutantes of a few years back is the wife of an officer of the giant flying boat Mars.

She is the former Molly Bowditch whose husband, Lieut. Kenneth W. Winsor, is a pilot of the big ship which had her maiden trip in the Pacific recently.

While Ken is serving Uncle Sam, Molly and their little daughter, Margaret, are living with her mother, Mrs. E. Sohier Welch, whose mansion on Louisbury sq. compares in size with the flying boat which, according to newspaper reports, has the space of a 15-room house.

What with tending her baby and keeping up with the daily papers so as not to miss any accounts of the Mars, Molly has no time at present to exercise her talents for writing and painting. When she was a debutante she studied both and also took a course in architecture at M. I. T., where she was the first woman to enroll in the course.

She and Ken met at M. I. T. where he was also studying architecture. Before the war he gave up his course to enlist in the air corps and after their wedding in Framingham at the Welch summer home they went to the Canal Zone to set up their first home. Since then they have lived in Texas, Norfolk and Miami and in travelling from one air station to another with her aviator husband Molly has had many rich and interesting experiences to provide material for her art.

She is related to many prominent Bostonians. Her dad is Manfred Bowditch of Marlboro st., and she is a granddaughter of Mrs. Sumner Pearmain and the late Dr. Henry P. Bowditch, dean of physiology at Harvard Medical School. Her sister, Mrs. Eliza Bowditch Wheelwright, lives in Wellesley.

Baseball May Close For Duration July 4th

By JACK CONWAY

JULY 4 IS SET as the date when big league baseball may be called off for the duration. Baseball magnates realize that if the 180 players in 4-F are obliged to accept jobs in essential war industries that the game cannot survive.

There are also numerous ball players, like Jim Tabor of the Red Sox, who are in 1-A and who hope to be able to play two or three months of baseball before being called into the armed services. Ball players who have been employed in defense plants have been given deferred classification while they have remained on the job, but as soon as they have returned to baseball they have been moved back into 1-A.

Jim Tabor

With the speedup of the draft, a person in 1-A will not have to wait long before receiving a greeting card with an order to report for a physical examination.

Even those ball players who have remained in defense plants may have to enter the armed forces if physically fit. This is particularly true if they are 26 years of age or younger. Only those persons with special qualifications will be allowed to remain in the war plants.

Persons back from the big league training camps say that the players and other camp followers lack their usual spirit. They feel that baseball will only last for a few months this year, and they refuse to become excited over discussions as to which clubs will win the American and National League pennants.

Now that the players in 4-F are about to be ordered into industry baseball will be without the tools to carry on. There may be weekend baseball between the odds and ends of player material that is left behind, but it will not be a type of baseball that will get folks steamed up.

* * *

Father Draft Key

THE DRAFTING of fathers, some of whom left behind from six to a dozen children when they went to war, eliminated what opposition there was to weeding young men out of industry and compelling those persons in 4-F to get war jobs.

There has not been anyone found who could come to the defense of the 4-F group and young men in war jobs while fathers, well in their 30's and with heavy family responsibilities, have gone to Army camps and Navy bases under the Selective Service Act.

Of course all persons in 4-F will not have to take war jobs. There are many people in this classification who have such serious physical conditions that they could not stand the strain of hard work. Ball players, however, are a healthy group. Even those in 4-F have no serious physical difficulties that would prevent them from working. Perforated ears, trick knees and other marks left by injuries will not prevent these baseball heroes from doing a first-class job on the assembly line.

Baseball has not been so silly as to say baseball is needed for the morale. With young soldiers, sailors and aviators fighting and dying on all of the battlefronts of the world, baseball people would make themselves look ridiculous if they were to say that the sport is necessary at this time.

All that is necessary is to give our fighting men 100 per cent support so that they will have everything they need in their struggle to beat the enemy. Planes, tanks, munitions, ships and other materiel of war turned out by former ball players in war plants would serve the purpose better than home runs hit with the bases loaded.

Military men say this is the invasion year. It is therefore no time for anyone to loaf or engage in so-called morale building pastimes.

B's Squad Cut to 27

By BILL GRIMES

NEW HAVEN, April 5—Of the 50-odd candidates who tried out for the Braves at Choate School, Bob Coleman has selected 27 to make the exhibition tour, which starts tomorrow when the squad moves into New York and winds up one week from Sunday at Fenway Park.

"Although the boss (Bob Quinn) told me to take as many players on this trip as I wanted to," declared Coleman. "I wasn't able to pick more than 27 that could possibly do us any good. And at least thre who have survived the first cut will be sent to Hartford before the Eastern League gets under way.

NINE PITCHERS

On Manager Coleman's list are nine pitchers, three catchers, nine infielders and all six outfielders.

Of the pitchers, five have never seen action at Braves Field. They are Carl Lindquist, an elongated right hander, who made the final Western trip with the club last season, Billy Marshall, a small but promising southpaw from Lowell, Hal Schacker, up from Hartford, with little experience but still a fine prospect, George Woodend, who came back to baseball last season with Hartford after laying off for three years, and who didn't report until last Monday, and Vin Shupe, a left hander, who was at training camp last spring with the Montreal Royals and then retired for the season, and, in some way, became a free agent.

Carrington Clarke, a 17-year-old youngster, who quit Reading, Pa., High School in the middle of his junior year to join the Braves' organization, was selected to catch batting practice, but Phil Masi and Clyde Kluttz will do the receiving in the games. Stu Hofferth may be picked up somewhere along the line and if he is, it will take some of the load off Masi and Kluttz.

HITTER ON FIRST

Judging from the fact that Buck Etchison, the slugging first baseman from Hartford, will start today against Yale and that Kerby Farrell has been doing mound duty of late, Manager Coleman has decided that he needs a power hitter at the initial sack.

Ben Geraghty has been ailing of late but Steve Shemo has an edge on him both as a second baseman and a hitter. On his showing at Choate School, Shemo is one of the best fielding second sackers the Braves have come up with in years and critics, who are qualified to pass judgment, predict he will hit National League pitching.

It is fortunate that the Braves bought Dec Phillips from Syracuse, for Whitey Wietelmann has been handicapped by a cyst on the underside of his left eye lid, since the start of the training season.

ROGER HORNSBY
Quits Mexico

Hornsby Back With Ft. Worth

MEXICO CITY, April 5 (AP)—Rogers Hornsby, former major league great who came to Mexico back in February amid reams of publicity, has resigned as manager of the Vera Cruz club in the Mexico Baseball League.

"The Rajah" announced his resignation last night, adding that he would return to Ft. Worth, Tex., where he piloted that city's Texas League club in 1942 before the loop decided to quit for the duration.

"I'm perfectly willing to keep my own agreements if the other fellow keeps his," Hornsby said in explaining his action. "But in this case it's hopeless.

"I found out that I'd even have to pay my expenses on road trips and that's unheard of. The management finally consented to pay my expenses, but there were many other matters to iron out. I finally gave up."

Jorge Pasquel, president of the league and also of the Vera Cruz club, did not comment.

Hornsby asserted there is a great future for baseball in Mexico, but a lack of organization.

Skip Stahley in Navy

PROVIDENCE, April 5 (AP)—J. Neil "Skip" Stahley, Brown head football coach for the past three years, has been commissioned in the Navy and has been released from his contract at Brown. He has been commissioned a junior lieutenant deck volunteer service and will report at Fort Schuyler, N. Y., for indoctrination on April 28.

Terror Rated Over Angel

Another near capacity crowd will be storming the Arena tonight when the Golden Terror, rating a slight favorite, takes on Maurice "The Angel" Tillet of France in the main bout of Promoter Paul Bowser's weekly wrestling program.

This match will be the third and rubber meeting between the two mat giants.

Tillet has never felt that his loss to the Terror was legitimate. He was stopped by what he claims was an illegal instrument but now he feels that his Bear Hug will call a halt to the championship ambitions of his 379-pound rival.

MAIN BOUT
Maurice "The Angel" Tillet, France, vs. the Golden Terror Alabama

SEMI-FINAL
Rebel Bob Russell, Newport, R. I., vs. Jack Clayburne Roxbury

SPECIAL BOUT
Dr. John "Drop-Kick" Murphy, Acton, vs. Manuel Cortes, Spain.

OPENING BOUT
Farmer Mack, Vermont, vs. Kemal Adbel Rahman, New York.

Bob Montgomery Classified 1-A

PHILADELPHIA, April 5 (INS)—Lightweight Champion Bob Montgomery awaited a pre-induction reexamination today after receiving a 1-A classification from his Quaker City draft board.

The 25-year-old fitlist is married and the father of a 3-year-old son.

Vogel May Force Farrar In Cathedral 10-Mile Run

By MIKE GILLOOLY

Ted Vogel, now of the U. S. Navy stationed at Sampson Training Base in New York, will be toeing the starting mark in the 34th annual 10-mile road race of the Cathedral Club of the South End in an effort to call a halt to the impending sweep of Coast Guardsman Farrar Saturday afternoon

Farrar, looming as an early favorite in the B. A. A. Patriot's Day Marathon, has already captured the 20-mile Medford grind and the 10-mile plod of the Reddish A. A. in sensational finishes.

In Vogel, the new serviceman king of the marathoners will be facing as stubborn a foe as he met in Kelley at Medford and Ross in the Reddish. The former St. Mary's High School ace will be defending champion of this popular run and as one of the youngest entries in the race, he'll be the sentimental choice of a goodly portion of the crowd that will be lining the streets of the South End and South Boston.

In a recent letter to meet director, Tom Heggarty, Vogel was elated that his furlough from Sampson, N. Y., will include the date of the Cathedral clash. Working under Johnnie Semple, C. P. O., the pair have been eyeing a successful defense of the title throughout the course of conditioning in Navy spangles.

Another added starter who should steal the fancy of the Southie fans will be Michael J. O'Hara, as tuneful a monicker as you could hope for "over in Southie." O'Hara, a top-notcher when lifting 'em up and putting 'em down for the B. A. A., has received permission from his commanding officer in the Fleet Post Office, New York city, to come up to the Hub for this run. O'Hara's now in the U. S. Navy.

And the list goes on and on. There were 47 entries in the most recent count—a lot of big names in the group and just as many and more newcomers. Director Heggarty listed Lloyd Evans, Montreal airlane worker; Johnnie Kelley, now settled in his new home in West Acton; Fred McGlone, National champion; Lloyd Bairstow, U. S. Navy; Johnnie Ingemi, winner in 1933; Louis Young, second last year; Fred Brown, Tony Medeiros, and possibly Gerard Cote, B. A. A. winner last spring.

The field may even approach the 100 mark.

Bums Beat Yankees

TRENTON, N. J., April 5 (AP) With Outfielder Luis Olmo driving in two runs with a triple and single, besides scoring once himself, the Brooklyn Dodgers defeated the New York Yankees 6-4.

56 Steeds Nominated For King's Plate

TORONTO, April 5 (AP)—Fifty-six horses, including most of the outstanding Canadian-bred 2-year-olds of last year, have been nominated for the 85th running of the King's Plate—Canada's premier racing classic—at Toronto's Woodbine Park, May 27.

The historic race—oldest continuously-run stake of North American thoroughbred racing—will be open this year to all 3-year-olds foaled in Canada. From the time of the first running in 1860 the King's Plate had been restricted to horses foaled in Ontario.

Bees Need Tackle

CHICAGO, April 5 (AP)—There are lots of fish in Bermuda, but between 200 and 300 Seabees in one unit stationed there can't follow their favorite sport because of lack of fishing tackle.

A request for any old salt water reels, linen lines, spoon lures or large hooks was made to Bob Becker of the Chicago Tribune sports department by some of the members of the construction battalion maintenance No. 540.

Becker is urging sportsmen to contribute the fishing tackle for a shipment to the Seabees.

Indians All Set; Rookie Opens Up

"Put me down for 15 victories," Charles "Red" Embree told all and sundry at the Cleveland Indians' spring training camp at Lafayette, Ind., yesterday, according to the Associated Press.

That sounds like a rash statement from a rookie pitcher who didn't even play in 1943. But Embree can make god his boast if he shows the form he did in pitching Wilkes-Barre, Pa., to an Eastern League pennant in 1941.

That year Embree, a 22-year-old right-hander from Glendora, Cal., turned in an earned run average of 1.69 in winning 21 games and losing only five for Wilkes-Barre.

Called up the next year by the Indians he won thre and lost four, gaining invaluable experience in the big time.

News about other major league teams:

CARDINALS—George Munger, Bud Byerly and Al Furisich nominated to divide pitching duties against Browns on Saturday.

BROWNS — George McQuinn, veteran first sacker, has played every inning of five exhibition games and handled more than 50 chances without an error.

WHITE SOX—Manager Jimmy Dykes left for Philadelphia home to attend wedding of sis son, Seaman, Jimmy, Jr., to Miss Ruth King of Ardmore, Pa., Saturday.

REDS—"I am much happy," exclaimed Manuel Jesus Ramos Garcia, known in Venezuela baseball circles at Chucho Ramos, on arrival at Bloomington, Ind., camp in time to see first snow, first major league workout and wear first overcoat.

TIGERS—Team starts schedule of 10 games in 12 days by playing Rochester at Terre Haute, Ind., today.

PIRATES—Looking ahead two weeks, Manager Frankie Frisch tentatively picked Southpaw Elwin (Preacher) Roe as starting pitcher against Cardinals.

PHILLIES — Outfielder Lee Riley and Southpaw Charley Ripple joined squad.

ATHLETICS — Third Sacker Frank Juliano rejoined team after passing pre-induction physical exam in New York.

DODGERS — Outfielder Luis Olmo hopes to keep up slugging. His triple and single beat Yankees at Trenton N. J., yesterday.

YANKEES—Rookie Outfielder Jack Phillips made timely single to drive in two runs against Brooklyn.

CUBS—Paul Derringer's ankle, injured several weeks ago, still isn't right. It swelled up after he worked three innings against Detroit Sunday. More X-ray pictures may be taken.

New Orleans Aces In AAU Fights

Four of the best amateur boxers in the South have entered the national AAU championships at the Garden on Monday and Tuesday nights, it was announced today by Tam Sheehan, tourney director.

They are Joe Johnson, a bantam; Augie Lapara, a 126-pounder; Eddie Gettys, 160, and Jim Quigley, light heavyweight, all are from New Orleans. Larry DiBenedetto, president of the AAU and a New Orleans man, sends word that the four are among the best simon-pure ringmen ever to come out of the Deep South.

Johnson has an unbroken record of victories for the current season. Lapara is a shifty, scrappy, two-fisted biffer.

Gettys came to Boston last year as a welter and went through to the finals, losing to Charles Cooper of Washington, D. C., who won the title in that division.

Quigley has proven himself a sensation all year in Southern competition.

Tournament director Sheehan stated today that he now has signed entry blanks from 10 of the 16 district associations which have signified their intention of entering the nationals. As it looks now, the total field will run between 75 and 80 amateur boxers who will compete in what looks like a great national tournament.

B. C. Cancels Athletics

As a result of the strenuous physical education program recently announced by Boston College, the possibility loomed today that there would be a complete suspension of athletics at the Heights.

Slugging Sox, Giants Tangle

By JOE CASHMAN

BALTIMORE, April 5 — The slugging Red Sox left here this A. M. for Lakewood, N. J., to tangle with the New York Giants this afternoon. Mike Ryba and rookie Clem Hausmann, recently drafted from Kansas City, will toe the mound in this tilt in which Cronin feels his boys will continue their winning ways. Roy Partee will be back on the catching job.

Members of the Sox entourage are still wondering over the youthfulness of Sam Lowry and Guy Coleman, the first two hurlers to face them in the game with the Orioles. Neither of these boys appeared to be over 16 years old. Although the entire local pitching staff took a battering while the Sox were winning 19-3, the pair of youngsters were mauled the hardest but nervousness and the frigid weather had something to do with their undoing.

Emmett O'Neil, Joe Bowman and Pinkey Woods combined for the Sox in holding the opposition to eight hits. Jim Tabor and Joe Bowman chipped in with four-base blows as the Cronins piled up 17 safe hits for the matinee.

Johnny Lazor not only did the catching for the Hose, a job for which he volunteered, but whacked out two homers in one inning, collected a double, single and a walk on his next three times at bat.

Baseball May Close For Duration July 4th

By JACK CONWAY

JULY 4 IS SET as the date when big league baseball may be called off for the duration. Baseball magnates realize that if the 180 players in 4-F are obliged to accept jobs in essential war industries that the game cannot survive.

There are also numerous ball players, like Jim Tabor of the Red Sox, who are in 1-A and who hope to be able to play two or three months of baseball before being called into the armed services. Ball players who have been employed in defense plants have been given deferred classification while they have remained on the job, but as soon as they have returned to baseball they have been moved back into 1-A.

Jim Tabor

With the speedup of the draft, a person in 1-A will not have to wait long before receiving a greeting card with an order to report for a physical examination.

Even those ball players who have remained in defense plants may have to enter the armed forces if physically fit. This is particularly true if they are 26 years of age or younger. Only those persons with special qualifications will be allowed to remain in the war plants.

Persons back from the big league training camps say that the players and other camp followers lack their usual spirit. They feel that baseball will only last for a few months this year, and they refuse to become excited over discussions as to which clubs will win the American and National League pennants.

Now that the players in 4-F are about to be ordered into industry baseball will be without the tools to carry on. There may be weekend baseball between the odds and ends of player material that is left behind, but it will not be a type of baseball that will get folks steamed up.

★ ★ ★

Father Draft Key

THE DRAFTING of fathers, some of whom left behind from six to a dozen children when they went to war, eliminated what opposition there was to weeding young men out of industry and compelling those persons in 4-F to get war jobs.

There has not been anyone found who could come to the defense of the 4-F group and young men in war jobs while fathers, well in their 30's and with heavy family responsibilities, have gone to Army camps and Navy bases under the Selective Service Act.

Of course all persons in 4-F will not have to take war jobs. There are many people in this classification who have such serious physical conditions that they could not stand the strain of hard work. Ball players, however, are a healthy group. Even those in 4-F have no serious physical difficulties that would prevent them from working. Perforated ears, trick knees and other marks left by injuries will not prevent these baseball heroes from doing a first-class job on the assembly line.

Baseball has not been so silly as to say baseball is needed for the morale. With young soldiers, sailors and aviators fighting and dying on all of the battlefronts of the world, baseball people would make themselves look ridiculous if they were to say that the sport is necessary at this time.

All that is necessary is to give our fighting men 100 per cent support so that they will have everything they need in their struggle to beat the enemy. Planes, tanks, munitions, ships and other materiel of war turned out by former ball players in war plants would serve the purpose better than home runs hit with the bases loaded.

Military men say this is the invasion year. It is therefore no time for anyone to loaf or engage in so-called morale building pastimes.

Vogel May Force Farrar In Cathedral 10-Mile Run

By MIKE GILLOOLY

Ted Vogel, now of the U. S. Navy stationed at Sampson Training Base in New York, will be toeing the starting mark in the 34th annual 10-mile road race of the Cathedral Club of the South End in an effort to call a halt to the impending sweep of Coast Guardsman Farrar Saturday afternoon.

The field may even approach the 100 mark.

B's Squad Cut to 27

By BILL GRIMES

NEW HAVEN, April 5—Of the 50-odd candidates who tried out for the Braves at Choate School, Bob Coleman has selected 27 to make the exhibition tour, which starts tomorrow when the squad moves into New York and winds up one week from Sunday at Fenway Park.

"Although the boss (Bob Quinn) told me to take as many players on this trip as I wanted to," declared Coleman. "I wasn't able to pick more than 27 that could possibly do us any good. And at least thre who have survived the first cut will be sent to Hartford before the Eastern League gets under way.

NINE PITCHERS

On Manager Coleman's list are nine pitchers, three catchers, nine infielders and all six outfielders.

Of the pitchers, five have never seen action at Braves Field. They are Carl Lindquist, an elongated right hander, who made the final Western trip with the club last season, Billy Marshall, a small but promising southpaw from Lowell, Hal Schacker, up from Hartford, with little experience but still a fine prospect, George Woodend, who came back to baseball last season with Hartford after laying off for three years, and who didn't report until last Monday, and Vin Shupe, a left hander, who was at training camp last spring with the Montreal Royals and then retired for the season, and, in some way, became a free agent.

Carrington Clarke, a 17-year-old youngster, who quit Reading, Pa., High School in the middle of his junior year to join the Braves' organization, was selected to catch batting practice, but Phil Masi and Clyde Klutz will do the receiving in the games. Stu Hofferth may be picked up somewhere along the line and if he is, it will take some of the load off Masi and Klutz.

HITTER ON FIRST

Judging from the fact that Buck Etchison, the slugging first baseman from Hartford, will start today against Yale and that Kerby Farrell has been doing mound duty of late, Manager Coleman has decided that he needs a power hitter at the initial sack.

Ben Geraghty has been ailing of late but Steve Shemo has an edge on him both as a second baseman and a hitter. On his showing at Choate School, Shemo is one of the best fielding second sackers the Braves have come up with in years and critics, who are qualified to pass judgment, predict he will hit National League pitching.

It is fortunate that the Braves bought Dec Phillips from Syracuse, for Whitey Wietelmann has been handicapped by a cyst on the underside of his left eye lid, since the start of the training season.

56 Steeds Nominated For King's Plate

TORONTO, April 5 (AP)—Fifty-six horses, including most of the outstanding Canadian-bred 2-year-olds of last year, have been nominated for the 85th running of the King's Plate—Canada's premier racing classic—at Toronto's Woodbine Park, May 27.

The historic race—oldest continuously-run stake of North American thoroughbred racing—will be open this year to all 3-year-olds foaled in Canada. From the time of the first running in 1860 the King's Plate had been restricted to horses foaled in Ontario.

Bees Need Tackle

CHICAGO, April 5 (AP)—There are lots of fish in Bermuda, but between 200 and 300 Seabees in one unit stationed there can't follow their favorite sport because of lack of fishing tackle.

A request for any old salt water reels, linen lines, spoon lures or large hooks was made to Bob Becker of the Chicago Tribune sports department by some of the members of the construction battalion maintenance No. 540.

Becker is urging sportsmen to contribute the fishing tackle for a shipment to the Seabees.

ROGER HORNSBY
Quits Mexico

Hornsby Back With Ft. Worth

MEXICO CITY, April 5 (AP)—Rogers Hornsby, former major league great who came to Mexico back in February amid reams of publicity, has resigned as manager of the Vera Cruz club in the Mexico Baseball League.

"The Rajah" announced his resignation last night, adding that he would return to Ft. Worth, Tex., where he piloted that city's Texas League club in 1942 before the loop decided to quit for the duration.

"I'm perfectly willing to keep my own agreements if the other fellow keeps his," Hornsby said in explaining his action. "But in this case it's hopeless.

"I found out that I'd even have to pay my expenses on road trips and that's unheard of. The management finally consented to pay my expenses, but there were many other matters to iron out. I finally gave up."

Jorge Pasquel, president of the league and also of the Vera Cruz club, did not comment.

Hornsby asserted there is a great future for baseball in Mexico, but a lack of organization.

Skip Stahley in Navy

PROVIDENCE, April 5 (AP)—J. Neil "Skip" Stahley, Brown head football coach for the past three years, has been commissioned in the Navy and has been released from his contract at Brown. He has been commissioned a junior lieutenant deck volunteer service and will report at Fort Schuyler, N. Y., for indoctrination on April 28.

Terror Rated Over Angel

Another near capacity crowd will be storming the Arena tonight when the Golden Terror, rating a slight favorite, takes on Maurice "The Angel" Tillet of France in the main bout of Promoter Paul Bowser's weekly wrestling program.

This match will be the third and rubber meeting between the two mat giants.

Tillet has never felt that his loss to the Terror was legitimate. He was stopped by what he claims was an illegal instrument but now he feels that his Bear Hug will call a halt to the championship ambitions of his 379-pound rival.

MAIN BOUT
Maurice "The Angel" Tillet, France, vs. the Golden Terror, Alabama.

SEMI-FINAL
Rebel Bob Russell, Newport, R. I., vs. Jack Clayburne, Roxbury.

SPECIAL BOUT
Dr. John "Drop-Kick" Murphy, Acton, vs. Manuel Cortes, Spain.

OPENING BOUT
Farmer Mack, Vermont, vs. Kemal Adbel Rahman, New York.

Indians All Set; Rookie Opens Up

"Put me down for 15 victories," Charles "Red" Embree told all and sundry at the Cleveland Indians' spring training camp at Lafayette, Ind., yesterday, according to the Associated Press.

That sounds like a rash statement from a rookie pitcher who didn't even play in 1943. But Embree can make god his boast if he shows the form he did in pitching Wilkes-Barre, Pa., to an Eastern League pennant in 1941.

That year Embree, a 22-year-old right-hander from Glendora, Cal., turned in an earned run average of 1.69 in winning 21 games and losing only five for Wilkes-Barre.

Called up the next year by the Indians he won thre and lost four, gaining invaluable experience in the big time.

News about other major league teams:

CARDINALS—George Munger, Bud Byerly and Al Furisich nominated to divide pitching duties against Browns on Saturday.

BROWNS — George McQuinn, veteran first sacker, has played every inning of five exhibition games and handled more than 50 chances without an error.

WHITE SOX—Manager Jimmy Dykes left for Philadelphia home to attend wedding of sis son, Seaman, Jimmy, Jr., to Miss Ruth King of Ardmore, Pa., Saturday.

REDS—"I am much happy," exclaimed Manuel Jesus Ramos Garcia, known in Venezuela baseball circles at Chucho Ramos, on arrival at Bloomington, Ind., camp in time to see first snow, first major league workout and wear first overcoat.

TIGERS—Team starts schedule of 10 games in 12 days by playing Rochester at Terre Haute, Ind., today.

PIRATES—Looking ahead two weeks, Manager Frankie Frisch tentatively picked Southpaw Elwin (Preacher) Roe as starting pitcher against Cardinals.

PHILLIES — Outfielder Lee Riley and Southpaw Charley Ripple joined squad.

ATHLETICS — Third Sacker Frank Juliano rejoined team after passing pre-induction physical exam in New York.

DODGERS — Outfielder Luis Olmo hopes to keep up slugging. His triple and single beat Yankees at Trenton N. J., yesterday.

YANKEES—Rookie Outfielder Jack Phillips made timely single to drive in two runs against Brooklyn.

CUBS—Paul Derringer's ankle, injured several weeks ago, still isn't right. It swelled up after he worked three innings against Detroit Sunday. More X-ray pictures may be taken.

New Orleans Aces In AAU Fights

Four of the best amateur boxers in the South have entered the national AAU championships at the Garden on Monday and Tuesday nights, it was announced today by Tam Sheehan, tourney director.

They are Joe Johnson, a bantam; Augie Lapara, a 126-pounder; Eddie Gettys, 160, and Jim Quigley, light heavyweight, all are from New Orleans. Larry DiBenedetto, president of the AAU and a New Orleans man, sends word that the four are among the best simon-pure ringmen ever to come out of the Deep South.

Johnson has an unbroken record of victories for the current season. Lapara is a shifty, scrappy, two-fisted biffer.

Gettys came to Boston last year as a welter and went through to the finals, losing to Charles Cooper of Washington, D. C., who won the title in that division.

Quigley has proven himself a sensation all year in Southern competition.

Tournament director Sheehan stated today that he now has signed entry blanks from 10 of the 16 district associations which have signified their intention of entering the nationals. As it looks now, the total field will run between 75 and 80 amateur boxers who will compete in what looks like a great national tournament.

B. C. Cancels Athletics

As a result of the strenuous physical education program recently announced by Boston College, the possibility loomed today that there would be a complete suspension of athletics at the Heights.

Slugging Sox, Giants Tangle

By JOE CASHMAN

BALTIMORE, April 5 — The slugging Red Sox left here this A. M. for Lakewood, N. J., to tangle with the New York Giants this afternoon. Mike Ryba and rookie Clem Hausmann, recently drafted from Kansas City, will toe the mound in this tilt in which Cronin feels his boys will continue their winning ways. Roy Partee will be back on the catching job.

Members of the Sox entourage are still wondering over the youthfulness of Sam Lowry and Guy Coleman, the first two hurlers to face them in the game with the Orioles. Neither of these boys appeared to be over 16 years old. Although the entire local pitching staff took a battering while the Sox were winning 19-3, the pair of youngsters were mauled the hardest but nervousness and the frigid weather had something to do with their undoing.

Emmett O'Neil, Joe Bowman and Pinkey Woods combined for the Sox in holding the opposition to eight hits. Jim Tabor and Joe Bowman chipped in with four-base blows as the Cronins piled up 17 safe hits for the matinee.

Johnny Lazor not only did the catching for the Hose, a job for which he volunteered, but whacked out two homers in one inning, collected a double, single and a walk on his next three times at bat.
